Growing Up . . .

... Numerically

The "population explosion" at Arkansas State University has been the most rapid among colleges and universities in the state. It took the college 24 years to grow from its 105 original students to 1,061 in 1950. The enrollment doubled to 2,193 in 1960.

In less than a decade, the enrollment has tripled to pass the 6,000 mark. The growth shows no signs of slowing down, for the state's Commission of Coordination of Higher Educational Finance has projected that over 16,000 will flood the campus by 1980.

The increasing numbers are evident everywhere—in longer lines at registration, in the bookstore, at the cafeteria, in crowded classrooms, in the ever heavy traffic—and the list could continue almost indefinitely.

Growing Up . . .

Opportunities for social growth at Arkansas State University ballooned this year for both Greek and independent students. The Student Government Association provided the student body with more entertainment than in any previous year.

On a more sophisticated level, the Lecture Concert Series brought in outstanding speakers who both entertained and challenged those who took advantage of the programs.

The Greek system experienced growth in new directions. Four new groups joined the system last year, and all four projected new influences on the campus. With more students going through rush, serious discussions were started concerning the expansion of the present quota system.

Another big step was taken when the plans for construction of the first fraternity lodge on campus were announced.

But social life doesn't have to be organized or planned. Social problems of various scopes and magnitudes are evident every day, and students are becoming more aware of them.

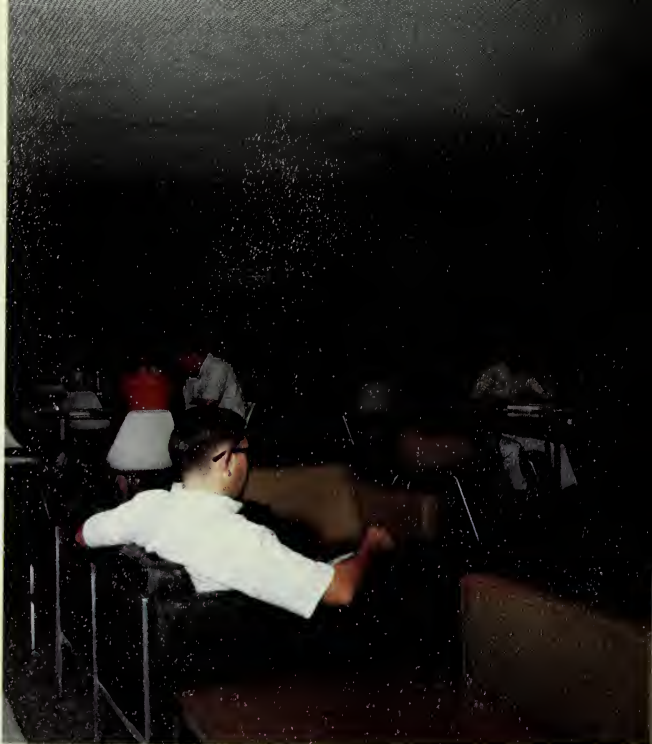

... Socially

Growing Up..

There's no material way to evaluate the academic growth at Arkansas State University. You have to look to find it, but the results are quickly obvious. The school now has over 100 faculty and staff members with doctorate degrees.

The instructional staff has been organized into six colleges with 18 divisions, and there are also three independent divisions, including the recently added Division of Nursing.

Academic facilities have been expanded to fill the growing student needs. The new science building is an example, for its educational facilities are second to none in the state. The ASU library is ever increasing its volumes, and the physical capacity of the library is soon to be expanded to provide a better foundation of academic growth.

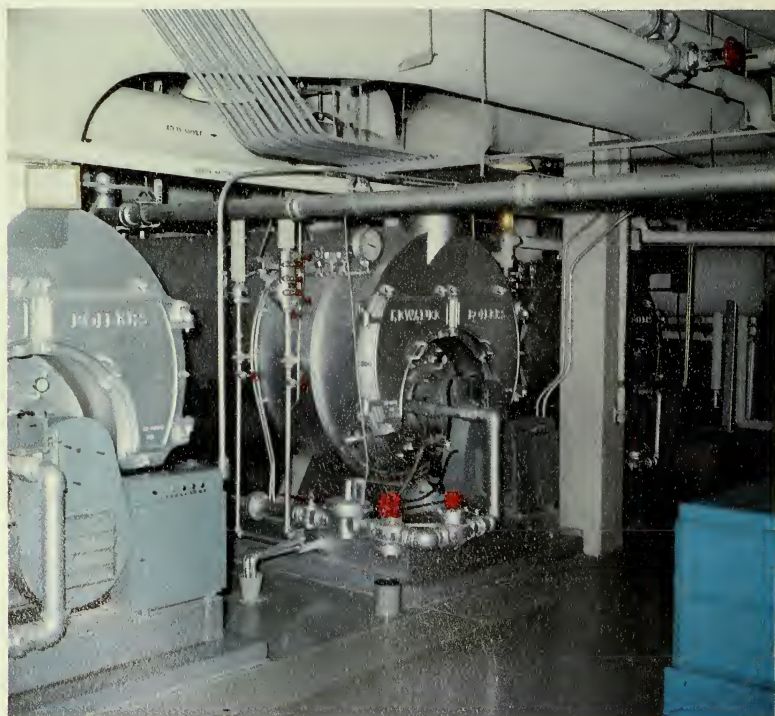

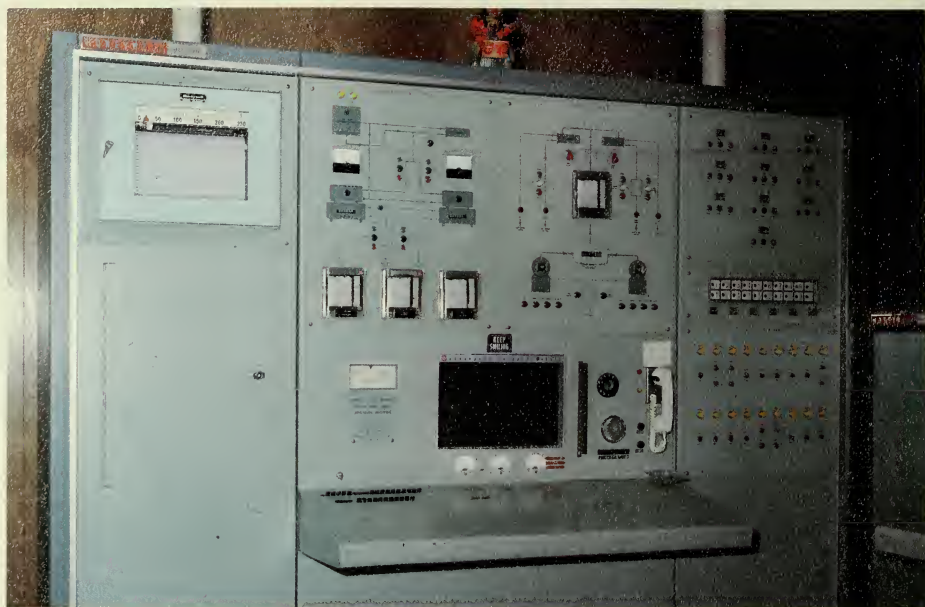

... Academically

Growing Up . . .

... With More Facilities

From the massive expanse of the entire campus to the hidden workings of a boiler room, the physical facilities at Arkansas State University continue to grow. The science center, which is being used for the first time this year, has laboratory facilities for biology, chemistry, physics and nuclear physics classes which are second to none in the state. The new cafeteria was scheduled for opening between semesters. Many construction projects have been completed in the past three years, and many more are on the drawing boards, including another high-rise girls' dormitory, a new physical education building, renovation of the old science building and expansion of the library.

Growing Up . . .

The new Fine Arts Center has given the artistic abilities of Arkansas State University's students and staff members a place to grow. The Division of Art now has facilities for sculpture and pottery classes, and the painting of Dan F. Howard, the acting chairman of the division, continues to gain both state and national recognition.

The Division of Speech and Drama now presents three stage productions each year in addition to Chamber Theater performances. The division also sponsored the first Arkansas State University invitational intercollegiate debate tournament in November.

Sigma Alpha Iota, the new music sorority at ASU, presented a festival of American music as the first of many choral concerts.

The Marching Indian Band had its best sound ever, and its stunning performance at Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium brought the crowd of 18,000 to its feet. During concert season several band members earned positions in the state's intercollegiate band.

... Artistically

Growing Up . . .

Arkansas State University is swiftly changing its image from that of a Northeast Arkansas college to a statewide university.

The face-lifting has received a big boost the past two years with the Indians' appearance in War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock. The game in the state's central city has done more than familiarize football fans with the calibre of our athletic program. It has given more of Arkansas a chance to meet the real components of the school—its students.

The school's spreading image got another lift last year when Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller appointed W. P. Gulley of Little Rock to the school's board of trustees. In the past most board members have been almost exclusively from the Northeast Arkansas area.

The facilities of the Carl R. Reng Center and Fine Arts Center have been used to house conventions of professional, civic and school groups. Each summer the campus is flooded by high school students from the entire state who participate in the various clinics and camps.

. . . Spreading Out

Growing Up . . .

Despite the advances made at Arkansas State University, the past has not been lost. The arch, which at one time was possibly the "hub" of the campus, still stands although often unnoticed. The relatively recent elevation to university status did not completely remove the fact that this was only a short time ago a college. Evidence is everywhere.

Efforts toward the improvement of the school's image, along with the many improvements of the school itself, are becoming more and more successful.

With the improvements, some of the past, and some of its traditions, have been forgotten—and they should be. But some of the past is intangible: it will never be forgotten.

... But Remembering the Past

Liberal Party Wins Despite Late Actions

SGA Election Week got off to a slow start behind the conventional campaigning of the Liberal Party, picked up some with the entrance of the "Tell It Like It Is" Populist Party and then really moved out with the surprise publication of an independent news sheet backing various candidates.

Handshaking, backslapping, mouthing and the other standard items on the political do-list got plenty of workout by both parties, as did the slightly more popular device of party-backed student dances. By week's end, every prospective voter had been hounded and hounded and . . .

But in the end, everyone agreed that it was one of the best elections that A-State had had in recent years. The Liberal Party, which swept all but one of the major offices, agreed wholeheartedly, while the Populist Party leaders insisted that this student body just wasn't ready for change.

The Liberal Party made its headquarters in the old Fine Arts Building, far left. Some candidates tried to "waltz" into office. Across the middle, Populist presidential candidate John Frew, fourth from the left, waits on the count to be completed. The Populist Party's headquarters, in the basement of Danner Hall, were characterized by the presence of several graduating seniors. At right, the winners: president Laudies Brantley, second vice president Cathy Crow and first vice president Dane Hatley.

Leadership Retreat: Students Take Over

The 1968 Leadership Retreat was marked by some of the best discussions and presentations in the outing's history. Although Friday night's sessions lacked a little luster, things got rolling Saturday, and when the evening finally closed students were wishing it hadn't, for the campus leaders still had many queries.

A handful of students spent Friday night around a card table, then presented the others with a breakfast serenade about their experiences.

For the most part, though, there were few frivolities, for the topics at hand were serious. Dean Moore didn't even get his usual dunking in the lake of Walcott's state park

Some students played volleyball during the Saturday afternoon break. Below, someone said something funny. Bottom, administrators and guests got together for a breakfast talk.

SPE, Chi O Win Bowling

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Chi Omega were the winners in the 1968 Sigma Phi Epsilon Greek Bowling Tournament.

The Sig Eps topped Alpha Tau Omega 2,078 to 1,987, while the Chi O's got their victory over the Alpha Gamma Delta team 1,449 to 1,352.

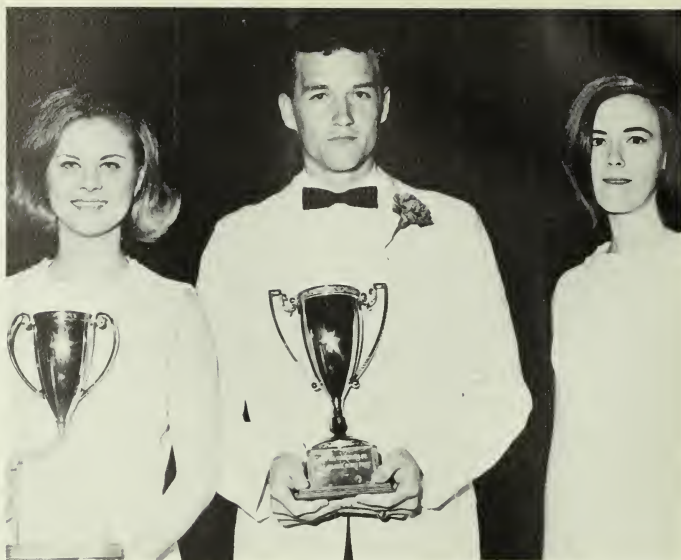

The women's All-Greek team included Diane Sayre, Becky Boyd, Carolyn Newkirk Puryear, Suzanne Wright, Frances Simpson and Sue Jones. The men named were Joe Arnold, Larry Rose, Larry Smith, Sandy Stanfield, Dick Tipton and Harry Truman Moore.

Teke's, AOPi Win Songfest

"Wonders Never Cease" may have been the overall theme of the annual Alpha Omicron Pi Songfest, judging from the results.

AOPi again captured its own trophy, but the surprise of the night came when Tau Kappa Epsilon made its entrance into the winner's circle with a touching rendition of "Ballad of the Green Berets" and "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross."

The heat of the spotlights almost matched that of many of the Greeks and guests as the announcement was made. The overall consensus of opinion of the night was summed up when one Teke said, "You've got to be kidding."

KA Downs LXA In Little 500

Amidst a barrage of skinned knees, broken steering systems, passenger cars clogging the race track, and other such malfunctions, and misfortunes, Kappa Alpha's "Rebel" emerged the winning entry in Lambda Chi Alpha's "Little 500."

Kappa Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha, both entering the event for the first time, walked away with the best decorated car and the "Tricycle Grand Prix," respectively.

Alpha Omicron Pi's "Ped-al Pusher" topped the sorority competition.

The humor was provided by the Sigma Pi's. After posting the slowest time in the event, they drove their car off the track, turned it over and burned it.

Graduation: The Final Step

From all parts of the country, the January graduates poured onto the A-State campus and met with May grads and administration and faculty members to don the graduation gowns and sit through the solemn ritual of graduation.

Including the 155 January grads who had to wait until May to receive their diplomas, a record number of 580 persons were granted degrees in the ceremony held in Kays Stadium.

Freshmen Enter A Strange World

The annual herd of freshmen poured onto the A-State campus, some with hopes of improving their minds, some hoping to find husbands or wives and some were just anticipating the thrills that would come in this world of no parental restrictions.

But they were rudely met by stricter rules, long lines, crowded assemblies and drawn out lectures. They were thrown from their world of self-acclaimed maturity into a world of upperclassmen, a world where they would play the role of the immature.

But despite the restrictions, it was a great world. A world where they were free to do as they pleased, yet they had nothing to do. It was the world they had chosen for the next year — the world of the freshman.

Crowds, lines and red beanies — the world of the freshmen.

At top, left, the first-year students wait to enter one of the most traumatic experiences of their young college lives — their first registration. A coed gets advice. Across the middle, those who can try to get out of ROTC. The freshman dance in the Reng Center was invaded by upper-classmen, some of whom made themselves quite conspicuous. Freshman women got their first lecture on what good freshman women should do while seated in the floor of the Reng Center Ballroom. At left, Coach Bennie Ellender and Dean of Students Robert Moore make jokes.

Lambda Chi's Ruin Teke's Fingerbowl

It just wasn't Tau Kappa Epsilon's day as Lambda Chi Alpha, Greek intramural football champions, downed the Tekes 17-0 in the annual Fingerbowl.

LXA jumped to an early 2-0 lead on a safety, and the score didn't change until after halftime. The Green Men increased their lead to 9-0 on a Mel Beck to Mike Burk pass and Joel Campbell's extra point.

Beck scored on a short run and Campbell added a two-point conversion kick to end the scoring.

Phi Mu Wins Pike Olympics

In the day when ASU's sororities get their annual mud bath, and we don't mean a beauty treatment, Phi Mu edged Chi Omega 57-52 in Pi Kappa Alpha's Little Olympics.

After the preliminary parade, the girls got down to the "dirty" work. The Phi Mu's gained their victory mainly due to wins in the cigar smoke, wheel barrel race and limbo.

The Chi O's won the tug-of-war, while Kappa Delta, the third place finisher, won the queen's contest and the pillow fight. Alpha Omicron Pi got into the winners' circle by winning the limbo contest and pie throw.

Homecoming —

A Myriad Of Activities

Homecoming Week began with the groaning of posthole diggers spinning into the rock-hard ground, and before long, stakes and frames began giving form to the varied displays.

By mid-week, the effects of sleepless nights could be seen in pledges' faces. Classes were marked with absences, paint-smeared clothes and unshaven faces.

Friday came. Last minute touches were being added before the judging began, but nature, herself, stepped into the judge's role, sending a stiff wind to muss the less sturdy displays. For those that stood unharmed, the rains came.

With the watered displays left to make it on their own, the student body mobbed the SGA-sponsored pep rally, only to be met with the primitive, and sometimes embarrassing, jokes of comedian Rodney Dangerfield.

But the rain, the wind and other things were well worth the climax, defeating the Lamar Tech Cardinals, the denouement, dancing to the music of the Shortcuts, and finally, ending the week with the voice of B. J. Thomas still ringing as the lights in the women's dorms began flickering.

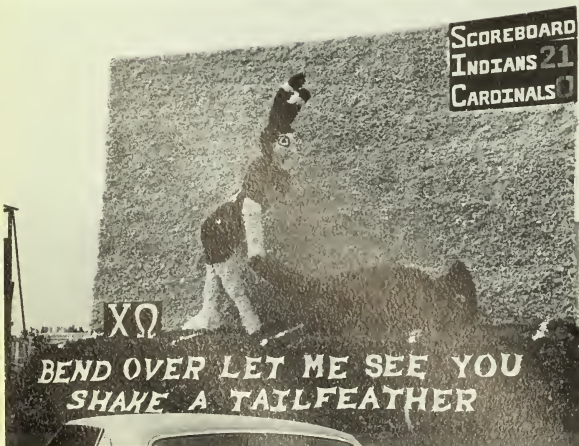

Homecoming was a night world. Some worked on displays, as shown in the two shots at left, some drove around in their cars and watched the work and some sat on cars and watched. Rodney Dangerfield, left, told jokes, some of his own, some written by those running the pep rally. Some were funny, but most were just crude.

Big Displays Take Trophies

Alpha Omicron Pi took first place with "Dragon 'Em Back to Lamar" in the stationary with lights division. Second place went to Chi Omega with "Bend Over Let Me See You Shake A Tail Feather" and third place to Alpha Gamma Delta with "Eat 'Em Up." The best used display may have been the bonfire — it took much less work, and came down a lot easier.

Tau Kappa Epsilon took first place in the mechanical division with its "Bennie and Clyde." Second place went to Kappa Alpha with "Tippecanoe and the Red Birds Too" and third place to Sigma Phi Epsilon with "Here Com' De Judge." In the stationary without lights division, first place went to the Baptist Student Union with "How To Cage A Cardinal" and second place to the Physical Education Majors Club with "Ace the Cards."

Queen Jennifer And Her Court

Jennifer Ware, a sophomore from Little Rock, was elected Homecoming queen for the 1968 festivities. Jennifer was no stranger to the student body, for she has been active in several organizations and is a cheerleader. Here she is shown at the Homecoming pep rally and in her car as she circles the track amid the cheers of the Homecoming crowd. Members of her court, pictured with her at right, were Terry MacLeod of Jonesboro, Jo Ella Todd of Dell, Linda Lea of Memphis, Tenn., and Ouida Jackson of Jonesboro.

...And Finally, A Game, A Win, A Dance

Queen Jennifer Ware receives special congratulations from SGA president Laudies Brantley. B. J. Thomas was the hit of the victory dance. Below, the royalty and their escorts.

Music Majors Dominate Talent Show

Instructions, rehearsal, production, conversation . . . now hurry — worry — hustle — bustle and, where's a mike and where's the light and . . . what the hell, the show's tonight . . .

Presenting the Alpha Gamma Delta Talent Show!

Silence. And more of the same. Enter stage left Linda Anderson. A few whispered whistles, then more silence. Talk Linda. "Hello." Linda talks. Applause. Introduce the first act Linda. Then Exit. Enter first act. Perform. Then applause, etc. . . .

And so it moves on smoothly and not so smoothly, while surprising talents exert themselves in the light of performance. And then the judges retire to judge, and then there's Jan Harrell. Again. And then there's laughter. And more laughter. And then there's the judges' decision. And dryness in some peoples' throats while the announcements are made. Joyous release then, win or lose.

And it's Sigma Alpha Iota on top, and Kappa Kappa Psi right behind for second. Phi Mu Alpha cops third. Long and lasting applause.

And one talent show lives and dies.

“Mary, Mary” Wins Playhouse

It was a night of nervousness. A night when make believe turned into reality. A night when being second was being nothing. It was the night of “The Four Greek Ones,” the 1968 version of the Phi Mu Playhouse.

The talent was exceptional, and somewhere, between the dried comments about the hospital ship HOPE, four rather good plays emerged to provide a surprising amount of entertainment for the fully packed Wilson Auditorium.

To no one's surprise, Kally McEwen walked away with the award for the best female actress, and there was no more than little disappointment shown in some faces as “Mary, Mary,” performed by Kappa Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega fraternities and Chi Omega sorority, was given the Playhouse trophy, then, singer Dick Walker was named the best male actor.

Christmas: A Spirited Time

No season of the year effects the number of people that Christmas does on the ASU campus. The gaiety of the period was best shown in activities like the St. Nick Dance and the Christmas parade. The annual AWS dance was highlighted by the announcement of Rob Bowers as St. Nick, and his date, Pat Brown, as Miss Merry Christmas by AWS president Eva Horton. But the true meaning of the season was shown by the many Christmas parties given by campus organizations for needy children and in the Reng Center Carol Sing, which was capped by a devotional message by Rev. Bill Krumbach.

Marching Indians Shine As Always

ASU football teams have had both good and bad years, but regardless of the performance of the players, the half-time shows have always been outstanding. This year was no exception as the Marching Indians repeatedly thrilled crowds at Kays Stadium with stirring shows and showed the fans who watched in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium why director Don Minx claims his band is the best in the state and one of the best in the nation. The band got to make a bonus appearance as it followed the football team to the Pecan Bowl. This time it performed before even a larger audience as the game was regionally televised.

Ross Beck was drum major and Ouida Jackson was both head majorette and feature twirler. Below, the band goes through a "step two" drill at Little Rock.

Top, the band concludes its Little Rock show with a stunning arrangement of "Cathedral Chorus." Above, the majorettes provide an "honor guard" as the band enters the stands. No spirit rally would be complete without the band.

Marching Indians Go Indoors

After a successful marching season on the gridiron netted many acclaims, including a fine performance on regional television in the Pecan Bowl, twirlers abandoned their batons for instruments, and band members forgot their formations to concentrate on "heavier" music for their concerts.

The Tribe, an outgrowth of the Concert Band, gave music students a chance to demonstrate their versatility.

Children's Play Is First Production

"The Wizard of Oz," L. Frank Baum's famous children's play, was the first dramatic production of the Division of Speech and Drama. The play told of the plight of Dorothy, a young girl who was taken with her Kansas home by a tornado and deposited in the Land of Oz, a country run by four witches and a wizard.

Naturally, Dorothy wanted to get home, but she found that first she had to visit the Wizard in his Emerald City. When she met the ruler, she found that he was a fake. Finally, the Good Witch of the South presented Dorothy with the magical silver slippers that carried her home.

At far left, Dorothy cringes while being welcomed (?) by the Wicked Witch of the West, Belinda (Bonnie Whitlock) while Wonkle (Art Kent) looks on. Verdo and Jade exchange cross words. Below, the Poppies (Bonnie Hale, Marsha Breeding and Jelena Jo Mobley) try to lull Dorothy to sleep, but the Tin Woodman and the Scarecrow rescue them.

Shakespeare's Play Is Second Feature

William Shakespeare's "The Tempest" was the Division of Speech and Drama's second production of the fall semester. Prospero, the Duke of Milan, lost his throne to his brother, Antonio, and instead rules an island filled with spirits of various sorts. The play is spiced with a satirical love affair between Miranda, Prospero's daughter, and the son of the King of Naples, Ferdinand, who had been brought to the island with the rest of Naples' royalty by a spell cast by Prospero. In the end, Prospero forgives his brother, Antonio, Miranda and Ferdinand are married and everyone lives happily ever after.

Above, Bellamy and El Gallo argue over the costs of the "rape" while Huckabee walks away in disgust. Right, Henry (Jim Harding) and Mortimer, the dying Indian, (Randy Trim) plot the "rape" with El Gallo.

"The Fantasticks," a musical comedy about two young lovers and their marital and pre-marital plights, was the third production of ASU's Speech and Drama department.

Seemingly feuding fathers try to keep the lovers, Matt and Luisa, separated by building a wall between their houses, then arrange a "rape" scene so that Matt can prove his manliness.

Later, Matt finds marriage to be unrewarding and leaves to see the woes of the world, only to return for the "happily ever after" ending.

Musical Is Final Production.

Lecture Concert Series Curtailed By Cancellations

The effectiveness of this year's Lecture Concert Series was greatly hurt by cancellations of two of the speakers, Sen. Paul Douglas and Ralph Nader, the nation's most prominent, current-day "muckraker." A third presentation by CBS newsmen Harry Reasoner had to be rescheduled due to weather problems, but the veteran commentator still drew a packed house at his second try. The series began with a presentation by the Danish Gymnastics team. Former convict and now author Bill Sands followed and told of some of the atrocities in penal systems. He offered words of encouragement for the often criticized Arkansas system. Former ABC correspondent David Schoenbrun's presentation was followed by a lively question and answer period which lasted far past the official closing of the lecture. The lecture by Cathy Bauby was attended mainly by visiting students on campus for the state AWS convention. The final presentation was by the Opera Theatre of New York with its production of Otello.

Lecture Concert Series.

lecture pleased the liberal element in the crowd.

Veteran television commentator Harry Reasoner drew one of the largest crowds in the series' history. Cathy Bauby, below, gave tips on weight control and social graces.

Variety Presented In SGA Concerts

If variety is desired in entertainment, ASU students got it in this year's SGA concerts.

Soul singers Sam and Dave were the first to hit the campus, but those present had to wait through an eternity of instrumental music before the "soul bombs" went off. The bomb must have had a short fuse, though, for the duo crooned for only 20 minutes before leaving the stage. Although this abbreviated performance displeased some, the resentment was quickly wiped away with the appearance of the duo's scantily-clad "go-go" dancer.

The velvety smooth Vogues presented their concert in March (in the middle of nine weeks' tests) and gave a show similar to that of The Four Seasons and The Lettermen.

The king of rhythm and blues, Ray Charles, was scheduled for a May performance, but lack of attendance for the Vogues meant increased costs for those who wanted to hear the Charles standards.

Sam and Dave's added attraction, a "go-go" dancer, brought some males to their feet, but many dates could be found covering their faces with their hands (but peeking through their fingers).

The "blind genius," Ray Charles was to present a May concert.

Although Sam and Dave got top billing at the first concert, their back-up band got to do most of the show. At left, the Vogues, who got a warm, and from all indications, a wet reception in an arid land.

Debbie Cook Named Miss ASU Of 1969

Debbie Cook, a freshman, won the heavily-counted talent division and went on to being crowned Miss Arkansas State University in the Miss ASU Beauty Pageant.

Debbie's presentation of Beethoven's Sonata No. 5, Op. 10, Movement I, got the judges approval. The 5-7 brunette had never entered a beauty pageant of any kind.

Debbie was joined in the winners' circle by three other freshmen. Second runner-up Brenda Stone won the evening gown competition, and first runner-up Maria Stewart won the swim suit trophy. Dana Boyd was selected Miss Congeniality by her fellow contestants.

Rush. . .

The crucial week is here again. . . and it's that party flinging, rocking-singing, tension-clinging, satisfaction bringing time for one more go around. The pitch, the plea, the con, the song, the smile, the suavity, the platitude, the attitude, the bait, the bite. And all done so smoothly that it slips by unnoticed.

And then the parties are over, and there's the length of one long, horrible night to contemplate whether one is or isn't to be a Greek. And finally, it's all over, or rather—just begun.

... Finally
The Bids
Are Given

ASU's Interfraternity Council received a summa cum laude award from the National Interfraternity Council for excellence in scholarship. IFC president Ronnie Rhodes accepted the award at the convention in Miami, Fla., and here he presents it to Dean Robert Moore.

With rush week finally over, sororities await their pledges. The cheering welcome at University Hall resulted in one window being broken out this spring.

IFC, Panhellenic Govern ASU Greeks

SGA Expands Scope With Fresh Ideas

Branching out in new directions, the Student Government Association took an expanded role in serving Arkansas State University students. President Laudies Brantley started his tasks by appointing his election opponent of last spring, John Frew, to head Operation Soundoff, a forum-type outlet for student discussion which met in conjunction with Presidents' Roundtable. Subjects ranging from a "parking area" for students to curriculum problems were discussed in the sessions, and some measures were enacted as a result of the project. The long discussed activity ticket became a reality, and student entertainment hit a plateau as such stars as B. J. Thomas, Sam n' Dave, the Vogues and Ray Charles scheduled appearances on the campus. The creation of a basketball Pep Band was another SGA achievement.

Senators Bill Hightower, Bob Bailey, Dennis Zolper and Johnny Horton.

Marilyn Book and Debbie Cook, left, were the only two freshman class officers who were not academic casualties. Operation Soundoff, top, and the New Folk were SGA projects.

The "spirit stick" was an innovation of this year's cheerleaders. It was passed from group to group at football and basketball games.

The cheerleaders made more trips than ever to support the Indians this year. Here they decorate the goal posts at Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium.

Majorettes Lead Band

ASU's majorette line grew to nine members this year with the addition of five freshman twirlers, Jane Galloway, Kay Mitcham, Alfreda Craft, Dana Greene and Ann Simpson. Ouida Jackson served capably as both feature twirler and head majorette. The three other returnees on the line were Lynn Delaney, Linda Lou Lipscomb and Sarah Pugh.

Leading the Marching Indian Band this year were, kneeling, Sarah Pugh, Dana Greene, Ann Simpson and Jane Galloway; standing, Alfreda Craft, Linda Lou Lipscomb, Ouida Jackson, Lynn Delaney and Kay Mitcham.

Herald Lays Groundwork For Future

The Herald of ASU made plans this year for future expansion as it was announced that the paper would become a bi-weekly publication next year. The publication date was changed from Friday to Thursday, and the reporting and editing staffs were divided into two groups. Next year the paper will publish a tabloid edition in addition to the present full size issue.

Yearbook Becomes Larger, Brighter

More pages, more color and an index—this year's Indian yearbook grew up in a lot of ways.

The book's theme section is done completely in color with four times as many color pictures as any previous annual.

The index, a dream of many previous editors, finally became a reality through the work of class editor Jeane Hamilton, advisor Tom Manning and journalism seminar classes.

Less time was wasted in the production of this yearbook, and in some cases there were those who probably didn't do enough work. Still, though, the staff managed to avoid the all night work sessions which usually end in confusing copy and short tempers.

In previous years, many would-be staff workers have made appearances only at organizational meetings and on the night when staff pictures were made. This year, though, the staff started small, but it finished with as many "workers" as in almost any year.

Head photographer Marion Meredith, top, took time out from his duties to become a father. Keith Ashcraft, top right, Marion's assistant the past three years, will become head man next year. Above, Dave McDaniel and Sue Moss were valuable assistants. At right, the yearbook room in its usual state of order.

KASU Expands TV Broadcasts

Radio-TV students get a first hand opportunity to test and improve their abilities through the broadcasting facilities of the KASU Network, working not only in the broadcasting field, but also in the fields of radio and TV commercial writing, copy writing, news writing and programming.

Courses in television, which were added to the established radio courses last year, received an extra boost with the purchasing of remote equipment, allowing the TV broadcasts to originate out of the studio.

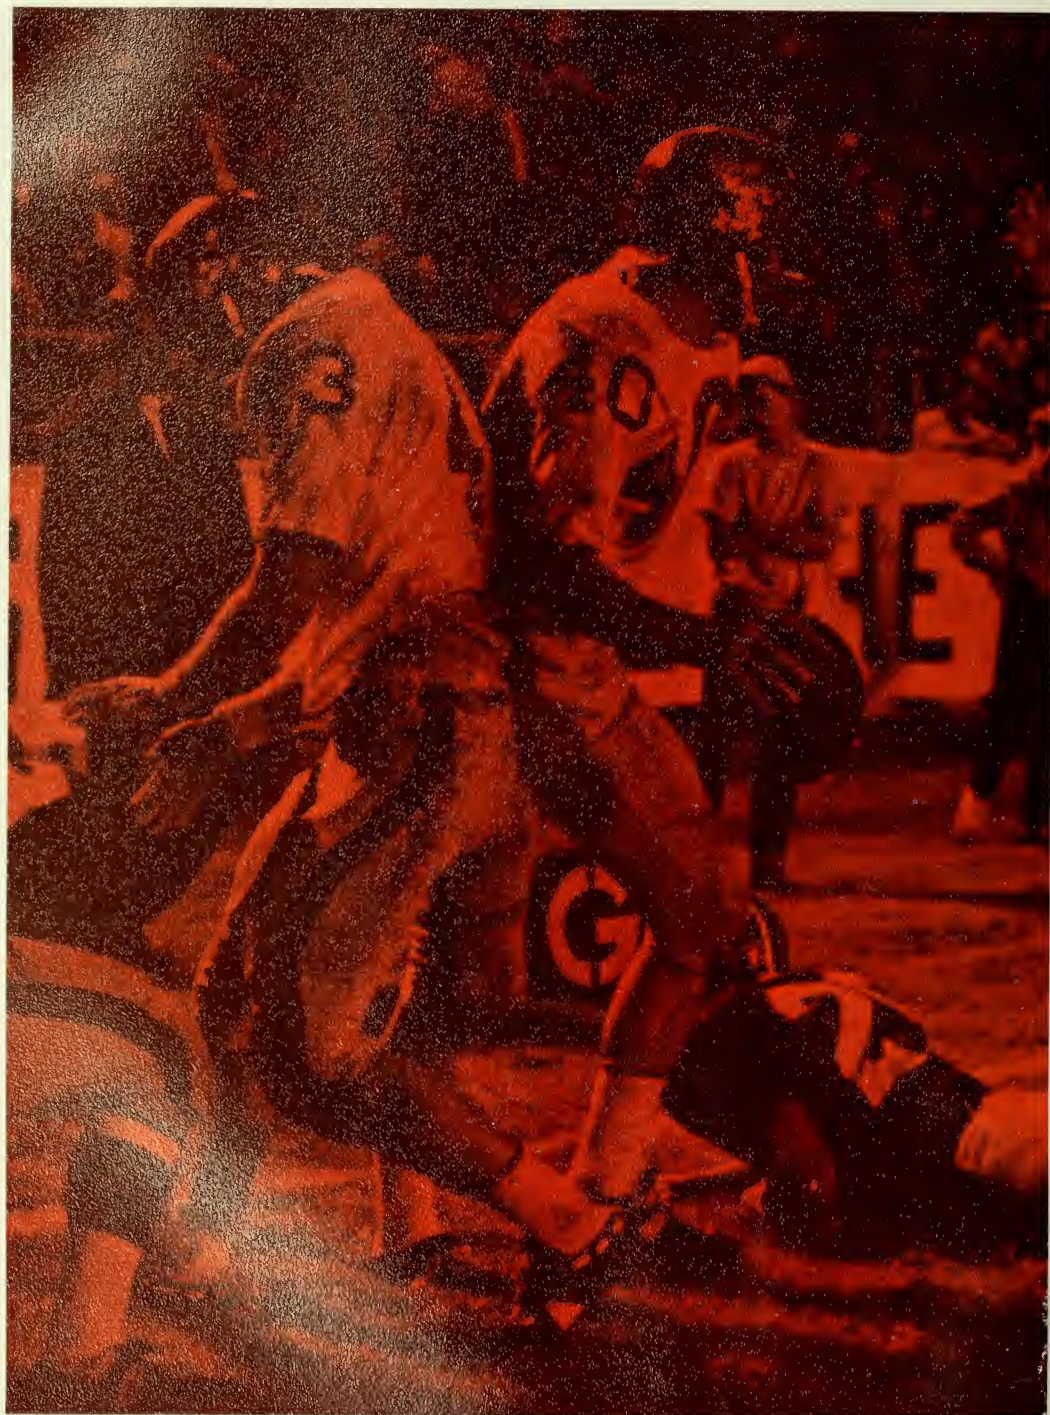

The student-operated radio station broadcasts music, news and special events, as well as the popular "Indian Sports Network."

ASU Wins All-Sports Trophy

The only thing darker than the Texas sky at Arlington, Tex., was the Arkansas State University baseball team. The Indians, defending champions, were behind a pesky Lamar Tech team 3-0 with two outs in the bottom of the third inning. The Cardinals, always a thorn in the Indians' side in any sport, had forced the Southland Conference baseball tournament into an extra game by handing the Indians a 5-4 loss earlier in the day.

The ASU track team had arrived at the park with good news — it had finished second in the SLC meet. Now the baseball game had extra importance, for the winner would not only get the baseball trophy, but the All-Sports trophy winner also would be decided by the outcome of the baseball championship.

Rusty Bourg, who gained All-SLC honors for his superlative pitching, stepped to the plate and hit a squibbler back at the pitcher's mound. The Cardinal pitcher fielded the ball, but threw it over the first baseman's head. Bourg ended up on second, and the ASU tracksters went wild in the stands. They beat on garbage cans with broken baseball bats, and they filled tin cans with rocks to use as noise-makers. For all practical purposes, the game was over. The Indians had been opportunists all season long, and there was no reason for the pattern to change now. It didn't.

The top of the batting order was up. Dana Ryan ripped a single, scoring Bourg. Captain Jim Callaway singled to keep the rally alive. Jim Mueller doubled off the center field wall, driving in Ryan, then the dean of the clutch hitters, All-American-to-be Wayne Pitcock, singled to drive in two more runs. ASU led 4-3, and another rally, led by relief pitcher Bobby Sherrill, who pitched six innings of almost perfect baseball, Ryan, Callaway and Mueller resulted in three more runs for a 7-4 win.

The win ended years of domination of the award by Abilene Christian and Lamar. The gigantic trophy had finally left Texas.

Coaches J. A. "Ike" Tomlinson, John Rose and Marvin Speight, seated, and Don Floyd, John Rauth and Bennie Ellender talk about their teams after ASU won its first All-Sports trophy

Pitcock Named All-American

Wayne Pitcock accomplished something that every college athlete dreams of, and he did it as a sophomore. "Puddin'" ended a successful season by being named to the American Association of College Baseball Coaches 1968 All-American team as a first unit outfielder. The left-handed hitter set an ASU season record for most runs batted in with 36, eight better than the old mark. He drove in the winning run in five contests while hitting .315. He produced 55 runs during the season, including five home runs. In the outfield he was equally superb as he used his speed and fine throwing arm to make several outstanding plays. Here he show after slapping a two-run circuit shot at Mankato, Minn., in the Midwest regional playoffs.

Criss McGuire

Criss McGuire, popular ASU catcher the past two seasons, lost his life in an automobile accident August 20, 1968, near Alva, Okla. The big redhead sparked the Indians in their drive to baseball power at the start of the 1967 season. He stepped in to the Indian lineup after giving up football for baseball, and his thirteen game hitting streak set ASU sailing on a two-year winning spree. He finished that season with a .357 average. In the 1968 season, his average fell to .202, but he was invaluable in handling the young Indian pitching staff and as the team's field general. His season was capped when he was named to the All-Southland Conference team. Here he is shown with C. C. Keller, catcher on the 1918 ASU team. The photograph was made at the College Division World Series in June, 1968.

Regular Season Sets Stage For Big Finish

After a fine regular season finish, the Indians captured their second straight Southland Conference championship. The Tribe had regular season wins over such teams as Iowa State, Mississippi State, Ole Miss, Murray State, Purdue, St. Louis U., Memphis State and Wisconsin. The Redmen opened SLC play with an easy 7-2 win over Abilene Christian as John Ferriell got the win and Wayne Pitcock drove in four runs. Rusty Bourg fired a two-hitter, striking out 11 as ASU topped Lamar Tech 5-1 in the second outing. Mental errors cost the Tribe a 5-4 decision to the Cardinals in the first championship game, forcing a second contest. The Redmen came through like the champions they were to win that game 7-4 on some outstanding relief pitching by Bobby Sherrill. The Indians landed five men on the All-SLC first team. They were Dana Ryan, Jim Mueller, Criss McGuire, Bourg and Pitcock.

Regional Next Step

The Indians made a joke of the NCAA Midwest Regional Tournament at Mankato, Minn. ASU went into the playoffs for the first College Division World Series with the worst record (19-10-1) of any team there, but it was soon evident that the Tribe had played rougher competition. In the opener against Northern Iowa, ASU fell behind 1-0, but it led 5-1 by the fifth inning due to several NIU errors and Wayne Pitcock's two-run homer. The Redmen scored five times in the seventh as Pitcock added his second circuit shot of the day. The final score was 11-3 as Rusty Bourg pitched a five-hitter. The Tribe had 14 hits while routing host Mankato State 11-1. Dana Ryan, pitcher John Ford and Jim Callaway had three hits, with Callaway driving in four runs. Ford scattered seven hits. The Tribe was awarded the championship after the final game of the double-elimination tournament against Southern Colorado State was called due to rain. At the time, ASU was leading 3-0 on Pitcock's home run and had runners on first and second with no one out in the bottom of the second. Ryan, Bourg, Callaway and Pitcock were joined on the All-Midwest team by first baseman Steve Morrison.

A familiar sight at Indian baseball games was Dana Ryan streaking from the batter's box for one his record 51 hits. Below, Stan Williams holds at third at Mankato.

Tribe Walks Away At Mankato

The team anxiously awaits its opening game above. At right team captain Jim Callaway and Coach J. A. "Ike" Tomlinson accept ASU's award for the Midwest Regional championship.

Two losses to long-time foe Delta State cost the Indians their first bid for a national championship in the first College Division World Series in Springfield, Mo. The Statesmen could do nothing wrong as they handed ASU a 3-1 loss in the Tribe's tourney opener, then eliminated the Redmen two days later with a 4-3 verdict. ASU's only win was a sweet one as the Indians ripped No. 1 ranked Long Island (N.Y.) 10-3 to eliminate the favored team from the tournament. Chapman College (Calif.) won the national championship without a loss. ASU still had a 22-12-1 record and set several season marks. Dana Ryan bettered his own standards with 51 hits and 20 stolen bases, and Wayne Pitcock drove in a record 36 runs. Rusty Bourg's seven wins tied his own mark, and Jim Mueller set a doubles record with 12. The team turned over a record 38 double plays.

ASU Finishes Third In Nation

Speed Takes '68 Spotlight

Arkansas State's track team turned its strength from the field to the running events in the 1968 season, and the results were eight running records being either tied or broken. Bill Caputo tied his 100-yard dash time of 9.5 and set a 21.2 standard in the 220. Bob Giersberg set new marks with a 1:52.2 880 and a 4:06.5 mile. Thomas Hill, the freshman sensation who competed in as many as seven events in a single meet, set a hurdles mark with a 14.2 clocking in the 120 high's. Jack Morrison turned in a 55.2 timing in the 440 intermediate hurdles. The Indians set relay records of 41.5 in the 440 relay and 1:27.1 in the 880 relay. In the field events, Bill Bell vaulted a record 15=0 in the pole vault, and Craig Shumaker leaped 45-9 in the triple jump for a tenth record.

A second place finish in the Southland Conference Meet set the stage for ASU's first All-Sports championship. Thomas Hill and Bob Giersberg paced the Indians' highest finish in track. Hill tied the SLC standard in the high hurdles with a 14.4 clocking and added a tie for second place in the high jump and a fourth place finish in the long jump to his honors. Giersberg, the Tribe's seemingly tireless distance man, took second places in the mile and three-mile and a third place in the 850. Bill Caputo placed in two events, taking third in the 100 yard dash and fifth in the 220. Other second place finishers for the Indians were Barry Carlow in the 850 and Billy Bell in the pole vault.

Jack Morrison took third in the 440 intermediate hurdles with his best performance ever. In the 440 dash, Randy Ervin took fourth and Rudy Rogers took fifth.

In the 3,000 meter steeplechase, Virgile Ayers, Tony Edwards and Kelly Parrish took third, fourth and fifth places. ASU's other points came in the relays as it finished third in the 440 relay and second in the mile relay. Abilene Christian won its fifth straight title with 99 1/2 points, while the Indians had 67 1/2. Trinity finished third with 57 points, Lamar Tech fourth with 51 1/2 and host University of Texas at Arlington had 44 1/2.

Tennis, Golf Teams Gain Big Points

ASU's tennis and golf teams grabbed fourth place finishes in the Southland Conference meet to give the Indians four points toward the All-Sports award.

The golf team climbed out of the conference cellar two years ago and repeated their performance. This year's play covered only 36 holes as one day's play was rained out.

The tennis team finished last in SLC round-robin play, but singles victories by Richard Brooks and Brett Baker gave ASU a third place finish in the SLC tournament, and a fourth place overall finish.

Coaches Direct Teams Toward Second Award

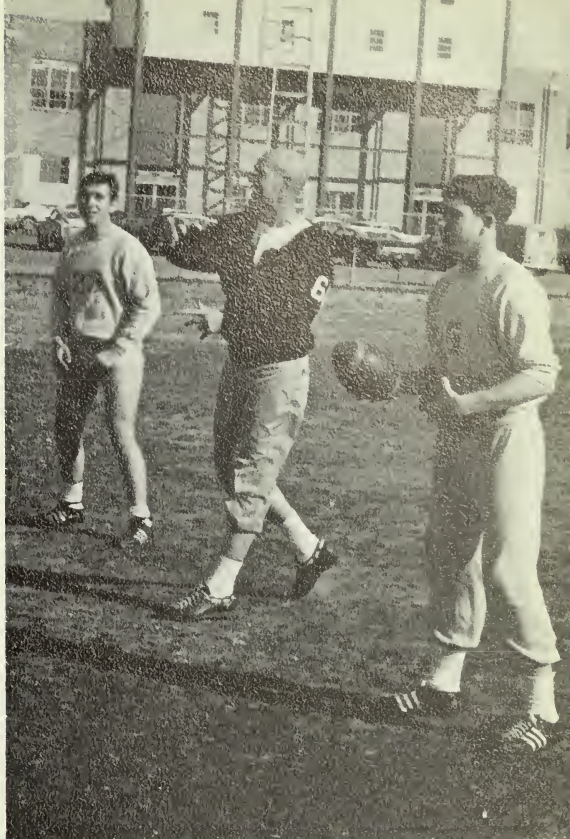

ASU's often awarded coaching staff directed Indian teams to the school's first Southland Conference All-Sports Trophy in 1968, and with another strong showing in spring sports, the Tribe will have an excellent chance of becoming the first SLC school to repeat the honor.

Football coach Bennie Ellender was named the SLC's football coach of the year and added the District Seven Football coach of the year award to the staff's laurels.

Athletic director J. A. "Ike" Tomlinson, who has been on the ASU staff for over a quarter century, doubles as the school's baseball coach. Below, head basketball coach Marvin Speight and assistant John Rose. Rose is also the head cross country and track coach.

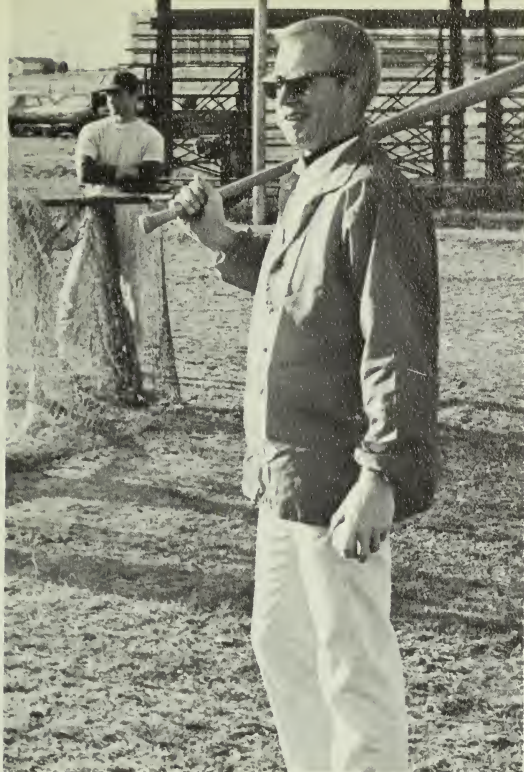

Assistant athletic director Don Floyd handles the tennis team. Head football coach Bennie Ellender works here with the defensive backs during spring drills. Golf coach John Rauth, a former basketball mentor, gives some tips to Kenny Southern.

Assistants Offer Added Guidance

'68 SLC Champs

SLC Champions

In what had been written off as a rebuilding year by the "experts," the Indians parlayed an abundance of youth with a smattering of battle-tested veterans to produce one of the finest teams in Arkansas State University football history.

However, the season was not completely free from exasperation and defeat as the Indians opened the year as predicted by dropping a 20-0 decision to Western Michigan University.

With first game jitters behind them, the young Tribe proceeded to reel off five straight victories before finally being tied.

Listed among the victims were Drake University 46-14, Eastern Michigan 26-7, Tennessee Tech 15-12, Southeastern Louisiana 17-7 and conference foe Trinity University 31-14 in Little Rock.

The Indians suffered a mid-season letdown and got a 17-17 tie to a fired-up Abilene Christian team. A 48-17 smashing of Lamar Tech, a 20-9 upset at the hands of Southwestern Louisiana and a heart-stopping 22-21 come-from-behind win over Texas-Arlington that gave ASU its first football crown completed the season.

The Tribe got its first television exposure in the post season Pecan Bowl, but lost to No. 1 ranked North Dakota State 23-14 despite a strong second half showing.

Several Indians gained post season honors, and Coach Bennie Ellender was named the Coach of the Year for the Southland Conference and District Seven.

Bergey, McGuigan Make Dream Team

Bill Bergey was named to the Associated Press's All-American first team at a line-backer position for one of the many honors he won during the year. Bergey was named to the All-Southland Conference team, and was selected as the outstanding defensive player in the Pecan Bowl. In another post season contest, Bill was named the South's outstanding player in the Shrine All-Star game. He capped his year by being named the winner of the Charles T. Meyer Award, which is given to the state's outstanding amateur athlete each year.

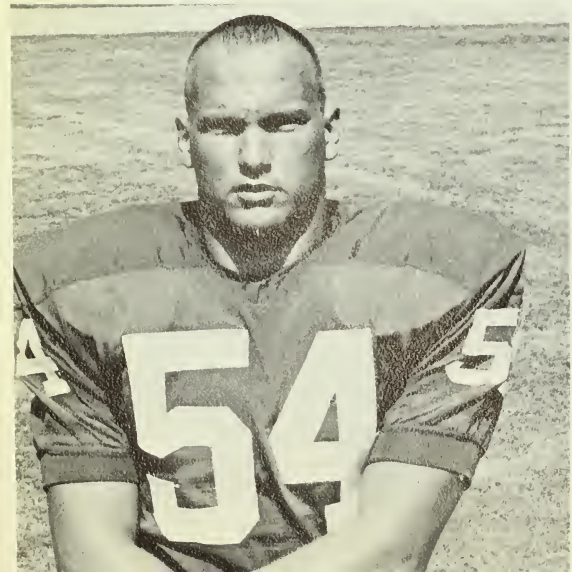

Frank McGuigan became the second leading rusher in ASU history en route to winning a second team All-American berth. Frank gained 1,223 yards, and he missed a chance at Richie Woit's record of 1,250 yards when he was injured in the Pecan Bowl. He was also selected the SLC's offensive player of the year as he scored a record 15 touchdowns and 92 points.

Tribe Splits Road Games

After a season-opening loss to Western Michigan, the Tribe bounced back by humiliating Drake in a 46-14 contest. James Hamilton passed for four touchdowns to lead A-State in the rout. Hamilton connected with Joe Waleszonja for two touchdowns, including a record-breaking 79-yard bomb. He threw the other two scoring aerials to Frank McGuigan and Dennis Zolper. McGuigan added another TD on the ground, while reserve quarterback Wayne Crocker carried for two scores. Hamilton established school and conference marks for passing yardage and tied another record for number of touchdown passes. Arkansas State's 548 yards on total offense also set a league record.

The Indians' inexperience showed through in the Western Michigan game, as the Broncos took advantage of several Arkansas State mistakes to carve out a 20-0 triumph. Bill Bergey provided the Tribe with one bright spot in the game by winning the Southland Conference Player of the Week honors for his defensive play.

Bubba Crocker (10) took over at quarterback when James Hamilton was injured prior to the Tennessee Tech game. Below, Gary Crane stops an Eagle runner in the mud.

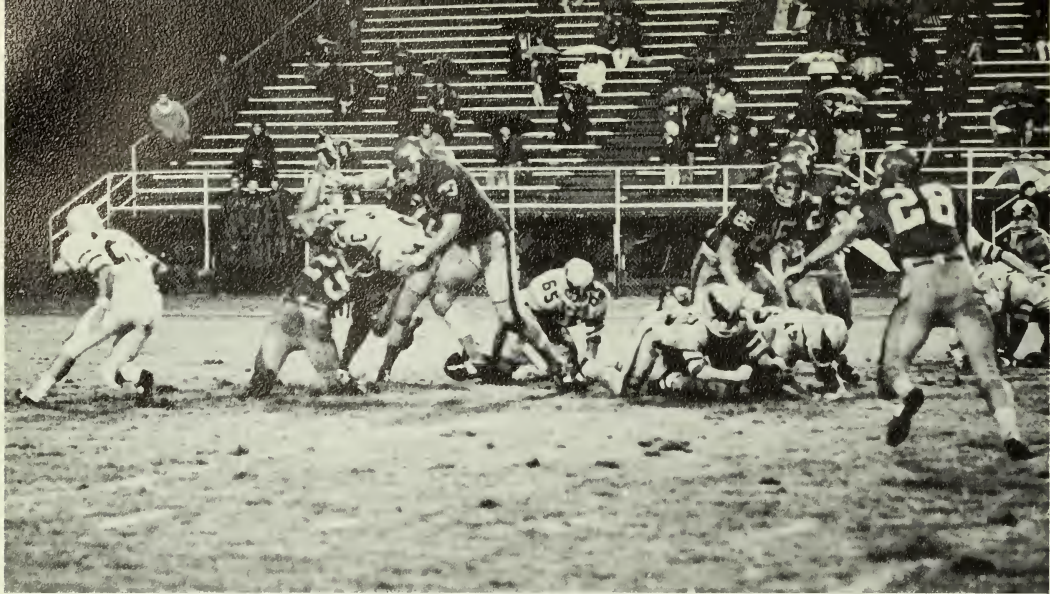

Frank McGuigan, top, takes off on a 38-yard jaunt against Eastern Michigan. Ken Bennett (72) makes a tackle, left, against Tennessee Tech. James Hamilton, above, is dumped after a short gain against Eastern Michigan.

Much of the action in the Tennessee Tech game was marred by the muddy field, top, and the rain which fell throughout the game. Kevin McClelland, No. 12 above, pulls away from an Eastern Michigan defender. At right, Frank McGuigan scores, which was to become a trademark for the season.

ASU Takes Home Wins

A-State opened its home season with two victories, whipping Eastern Michigan 26-7 and edging Tennessee Tech in the rain and mud 15-12. Against Eastern Michigan, James Hamilton threw touchdown passes to Virgil Peyton and Dennis Zolper, and Frank McGuigan added another score on a one-yard plunge. The ASU defense accounted for the other TD when Donnie Beshears scooped up a blocked punt and ran it in from 10 yards out. The Tribe defensive unit, led by Bill Bergey, stopped three Eastern Michigan scoring threats in the second half to preserve the win. Bergey was credited with 33 tackles in the game, nine of them unassisted.

Blocked kicks plagued both teams in the Tennessee Tech contest, played in a driving rain. Both Tech scores were set up by blocked punts, and the first Indian TD was set up by a blocked field goal attempt. ASU also blocked both Tech extra point attempts. Frank McGuigan scored both A-State touchdowns on seven-and-one-yard runs.

A familiar sight in the Eastern Michigan game was that of Indian linebacker Bill Bergey with Huron quarterback Arnold Fontes in his hands, as shown above. Freshman redshirt quarterback James Hamilton picked up some good yardage against EMU, but he missed the Tennessee Tech game with an ankle injury. Bubba Crocker did a yeoman's job in replacing Hamilton in that contest.

Indians Top SELA, Rally For Deadlock Against ACC

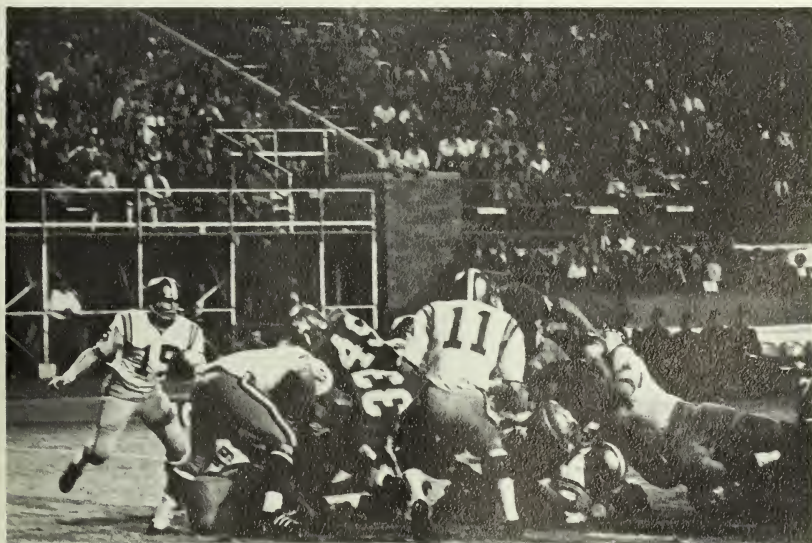

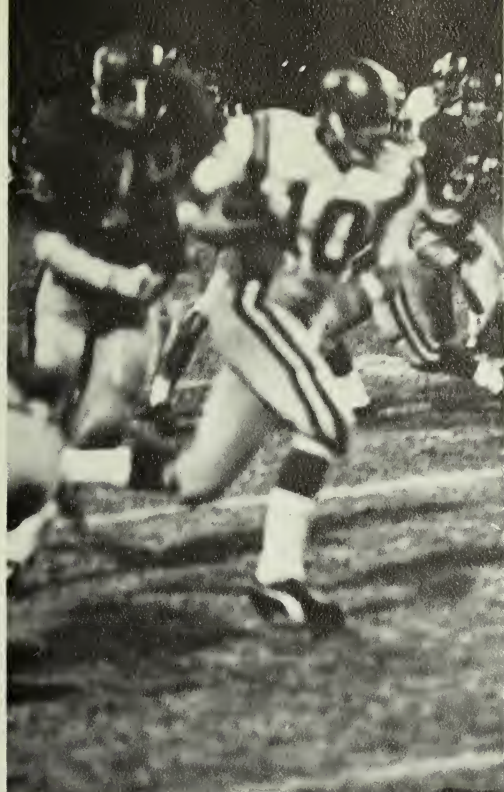

A victory over Southeastern Louisiana set up the triumphant night in Little Rock, but a tie with Abilene Christian a week after the Trinity win proved to be the only bad mark against the Indians' SLC record.

Frank McGuigan sparked the 17-7 Southeastern victory, scoring two touchdowns in leading the Redmen to their fourth consecutive grid win. Bobby Gentry added a field goal and two extra points. The A-State pass defense helped as four players each intercepted an enemy pass.

James Hamilton's passing brought A-State a come-from-behind 17-17 tie with Abilene. Hamilton marched the Indians 65 yards in the last two minutes, then threw a 19-yard touchdown pass to Tom Johnson. Gary Elliott kicked the point after to tie the game with 56 seconds remaining. Earlier in the game Elliott booted a 25-yard field goal, and McGuigan scored on a four-yard run.

The Play That Broke The Tigers' Back

Frank McGuigan, with Dennis Zolper leading his protection, throws on the halfback pass to Joe Waleszonia (42), who made a fantastic catch, taking the ball from two Trinity defenders to set up ASU's first score.

ASU Wins In Little Rock 31-17

Frank McGuigan drove the Tigers crazy on the ground, too, and when he retired to the sidelines early in the third period, Bubba Waldrup, right, took over and showed why he is a fine tailback.

The Indians' second appearance in Little Rock proved much more successful than the initial game in 1967, as they ripped Trinity 31-14 in their Southland Conference opener. ASU made a shambles of the Tigers' highly-touted defensive team by rolling up 384 total yards on the way to the 31 points. Trinity's defense had allowed an average of less than 10 points and 213 total yards before meeting the Indians. Frank McGuigan put on a one-man show to lead A-State to the victory. He scored touchdowns on runs of nine, two and one yards, and tossed a scoring pass to Kevin McClelland. McGuigan also carried the ball 24 times for 181 yards, although he played only three quarters. Gary Elliott rounded off the Arkansas State scoring with a 33-yard field goal and four of four extra points. The victory, the fifth in a row for the Indians, boosted them into conference contention, after most preseason polls held little hope for their title chances.

The Tigers found that ASU's defense was just as tough as its offense. Here a Trinity runner is crushed by Donnie Beshears (25) and defensive end Gary Crane as Dennis Meyer comes up to help.

Tribe Drops Birds 48-17

After a couple of mistakes in the opening minutes gave Lamar Tech a 10-0 lead, the Indians roared back to destroy the Cardinals 48-17 for one of the sweetest Homecoming victories ever. It was A-State's first win over Lamar in five years of competition. Frank McGuigan opened the Indian scoring barrage with a one-yard run. James Hamilton then gave ASU the lead on a four-yard keeper, and the Tribe never fell behind again. A 25-yard touchdown pass from Hamilton to Tom Johnson strengthened the Indian position, then Terry Whiting intercepted a Cardinal aerial and raced untouched for 70 yards to give State a 28-10 lead at halftime. The scoring continued in the second half, with Hamilton passing 17 yards to Virgil Peyton for one touchdown and running 11 yards for another. The final Indian score came on a 19-yard toss from Cecil LaGrone to Kevin McClelland. Gary Elliott contributed six of seven extra point attempts. McGuigan rushed for 124 yards in the game, boosting his eight-game total to 1,039 yards. He thus became the first runner in Southland Conference history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a single season, and he did it in only eight contests.

Frank McGuigan had another hey-day against the Cardinals, and he broke this would-be tackle to pick up some big yardage. Dennis Zolper (43) watches with a sadistic grin as the Indian defense showed why it was the best in the Southland Conference.

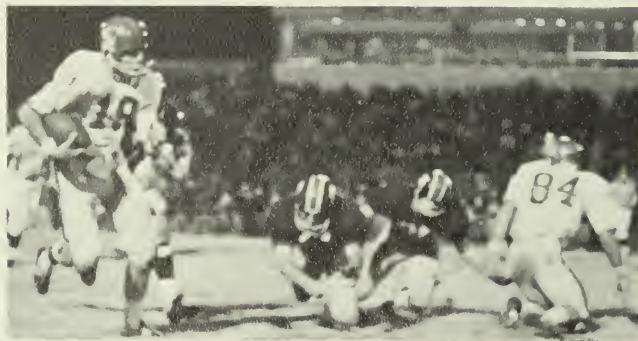

Terry Whiting electrified the crowd with his 70-yard interception return for a touchdown, shown above. It was the first time in five years an Indian defensive back had done it. Virgil Peyton (84) looks for running room after taking a James Hamilton pass. Bill Bergey and Steve Struble showed their All-SLC credentials with tackles like the one above.

ASU Nips UTA For Crown

With the Indians possibly looking ahead a week, the University of Southwestern Louisiana used several key breaks for a 20-9 win at Lafayette, La. The Indians took a 9-0 lead in the second quarter on Frank McGuigan's two-yard dive and Gary Elliott's 37-yard field goal. But the Ragin' Cajuns came back later in the period with two touchdowns for a 14-9 lead at the half. Two field goals in the second half gave USL some insurance points, but they were not needed, since the Cajun defense held ASU scoreless in the final periods.

Arkansas State won its first Southland Conference football title when McGuigan ran in a two-point extra point attempt in the final minutes as the Indians nipped defending champ University of Texas at Arlington 22-21 at Arlington. McGuigan had scored the touchdown which set up the two-point play just seconds earlier, along with another TD in the second period. He also passed eight yards to Tom Johnson in the third period for still another score. The victory gained ASU a berth in the Pecan Bowl against North Dakota. It was also the Indians' first victory over Texas-Arlington, breaking a 3-0-1 mark the Rebels had held in the series. A-State finished the regular season with a 7-2-1 record overall and a 3-0-1 conference mark.

Tight end Virgil Peyton makes a clutch catch to keep the Indians' game-winning drive alive in the waning moments, top. Quarterback James Hamilton picks up valuable yardage late in the game on an end sweep, above, and Frank McGuigan, right, drags a defender over the goal line for a second period Indian score that knotted the contest at 7-7.

Deliriously happy Indian fans and players greeted one another in the wee hours of the morning at the airport as the Tribe came home with its first SLC football championship and initial triumph over the Rebels from the University of Texas at Arlington. At top, loyal followers erected signs about the airport and Coach Bennie Ellender is greeted by a well-wisher. ASU senior linebacker Bill Bergey leads the Tribe off the plane.

Bison Top Tribe With Hatchett

In the Indians first post-season bowl game in 15 years, a Paul Hatchett-led North Dakota State University Bison team struck fast and then held on to defeat the Tribe 23-14 in the Pecan Bowl.

Combining the phenomenal running of Hatchett and a second quarter ankle injury to Frank McGuigan, ASU's top offensive threat, the Herd protected their No. 1 small college rating and recorded a perfect 10-0 season.

Bill Bergey, ASU's linebacker supreme, was named the outstanding defensive player of the game for his 21 tackles and two pass interceptions.

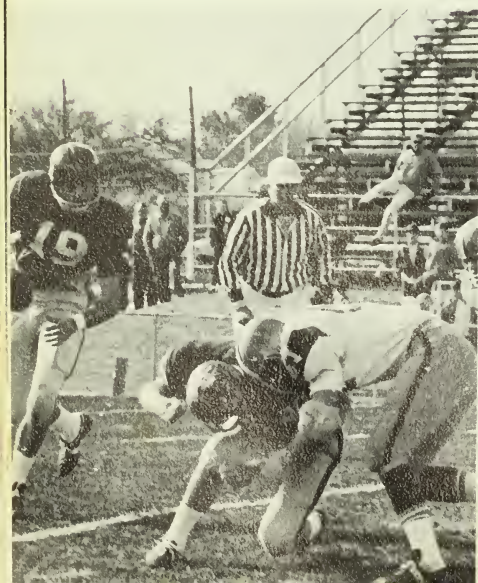

The Bison used a James Hamilton fumble in the first quarter to score first and later in the period drove 70 yards in seven plays to tack up their second TD.

A field goal and a scamper by Hatchett for 18 yards into pay dirt just before halftime completed the North Central Conference champion's scoring.

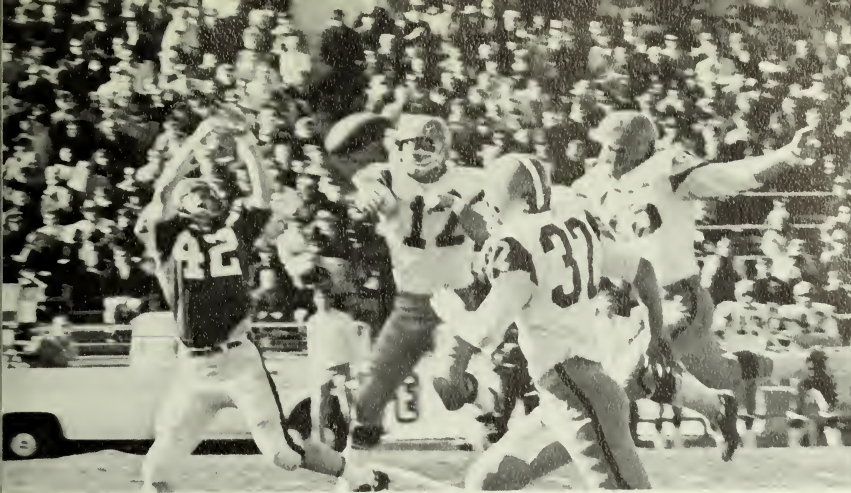

Finally in the fourth quarter Hamilton got the protection he needed and responded by hitting tight end Virgil Peyton and split end Joe Waleszonja repeatedly and got a score with 12:17 left.

Two series later, after Hatchett had fumbled, the Indians drove 57 yards for the final score with Hamilton taking it in.

But it was too little and too late.

ACC Nips Tribe For SLC Crown

An auto accident on the return trip from a meet at Murray, Ky., ultimately cost the Indians the Southland Conference cross country championship when letterman Kelly Parrish was injured and unable to compete in the league meet.

The loss of depth allowed the Abilene Christian squad to win its fifth straight title. The Wildeats won the crown with 33 points followed by ASU in second place with 34. Lamar Tech was third with a total of 62 points and Texas-Arlington was fourth with 107. Trinity University did not enter a team in the meet.

ASU's Herman Atkins ran away with first place as he covered the four miles in a record-breaking 19:15 clocking. Virgle Ayers was second with a time of 19:30 and John Lyons, a freshman from Philadelphia, Pa., was fourth for the Tribe in 20:36. Mile Holt of ASU was 10th and the Indians' Barry Garlow was 17th.

Atkins' time broke the old conference standard of 19:51.5 held by now Coach Bob Giersberg. Ayers and Atkins were named to the All-SLC team, and Atkins, Ayers and Lyons ran in the University Division Cross Country finals in New York.

Cagers Tie For Third In SLC

After a dismal showing in non-conference action and losses in the first two Southland Conference games, the Indian basketball team appeared headed for the SLC cellar. But three loop victories in the closing weeks suddenly put the Tribe back in the conference picture, and ASU finished in a third-place tie, although it sported a 6-16 overall mark and a 3-5 league record. For Coach Marvin Speight, it was the second straight losing season after he had had four winners in a row. But with only two players graduating, things look brighter for the Indians next year, after two consecutive seasons of, at best, rebuilding.

Belcher Tabbed All-SLC

Freshman center John Belcher received honorable mention on the All-Southland Conference basketball team. "Big John" averaged 14.8 points and 13.3 rebounds in SLC play, and for the year he scored at a 12.5 clip while pulling down 12.1 rebounds per game.

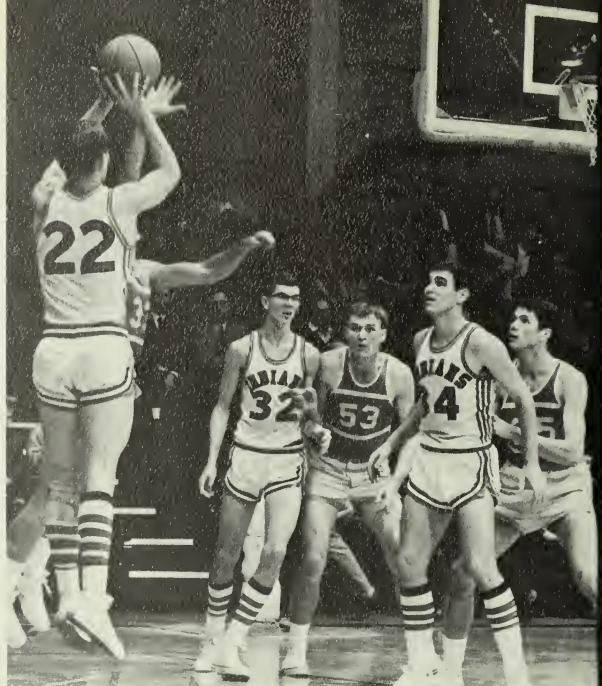

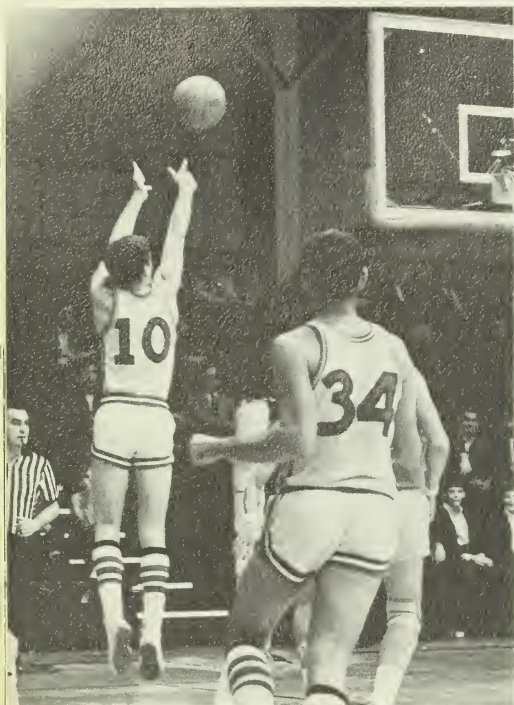

Senior Dave Velander won the fifth annual Jerry Rook Award, which is sponsored by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Here Velander receives the award from Rook.

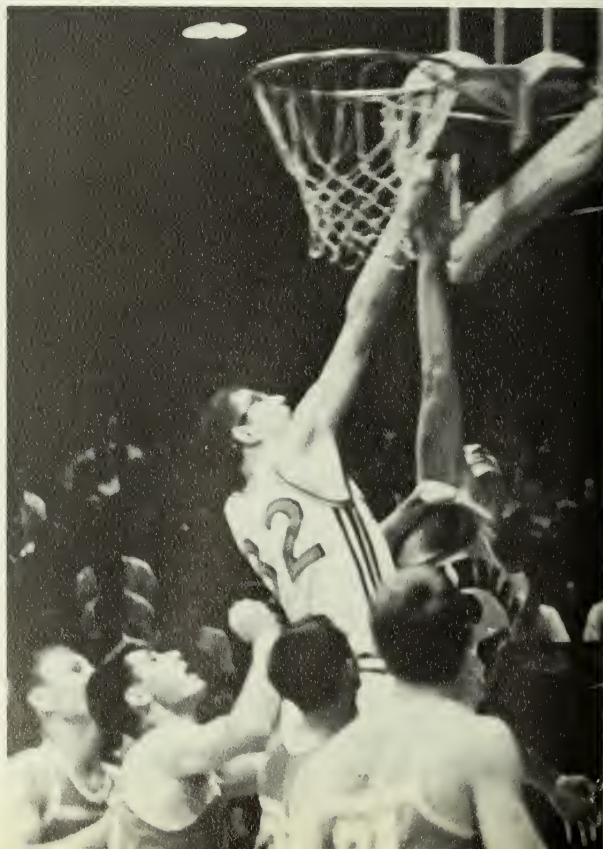

Seniors Ronnie Brown and Dave Velander received special awards from Lambda Chi Alpha at the Rook Banquet. Presentation was made by master of ceremonies Harry Truman Moore.

Tribe Has Rough Start

A split of two home games and an unsuccessful venture into the Colorado Rockies left Arkansas State University's basketball team with a 1-3 record after its first four games of the season.

In the season opener against the University of Tennessee at Martin, the Tribe made several costly mistakes and dropped a 76-66 contest to the Volunteers. Against Southeast Oklahoma, it was a different story, though, and State rolled to a 92-73 triumph. Mike Wise sparked the win with 18 points, followed by Phil Young with 15, Ron Brown with 12 and Tom Waleszonia with 11. On their first road trip, the Indians met Denver University and the Air Force Academy, losing both games handily. Freshman John Belcher was impressive in both contests, however, scoring 26 points in the 106-80 defeat at Denver and 18 points against Air Force, a 76-58 loss. John McKay was also a bright spot in the games, with 15 points in the Denver game and 11 against the Falcons.

Indians Drop Four

Although the Indians continued their losing streak, the overall play improved as the Tribe took defending NCAA small college champion Kentucky Wesleyan to the wire before falling 69-64 and dropped a narrow 78-77 decision to Southeast Missouri State at Cape Girardeau, Mo. John Belcher, the 6-8 freshman from Hot Springs, gave one of his finest performances of the year against the Panthers as he scored 15 points. Second year guard Phil Young threw in 14. The Indians held a lead over SEMO until the final seconds when a basket by center Roger Drake, who had 22 points for the night, gave the Missourians the narrow victory. Senior guard Dave Velandier had a Tribe-leading 18 points while sophomore Mike Wise scored 17.

During the Christmas holidays the flu-wracked Indians traveled to Jackson, Tenn., to compete in the Union University Invitational Tournament and dropped a pair of contests, 86-69 to Delta State College and 87-79 to host Union University. Ron Brown led the Tribe against Delta with 18 points while the Indians two big men John McKay and John Belcher, both suffering from the flu, combined for only 10 points.

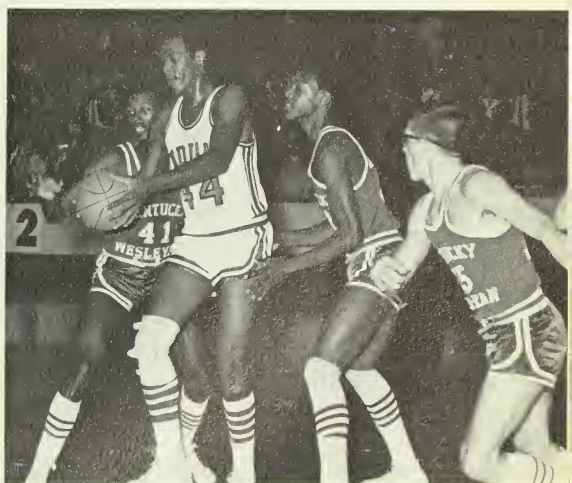

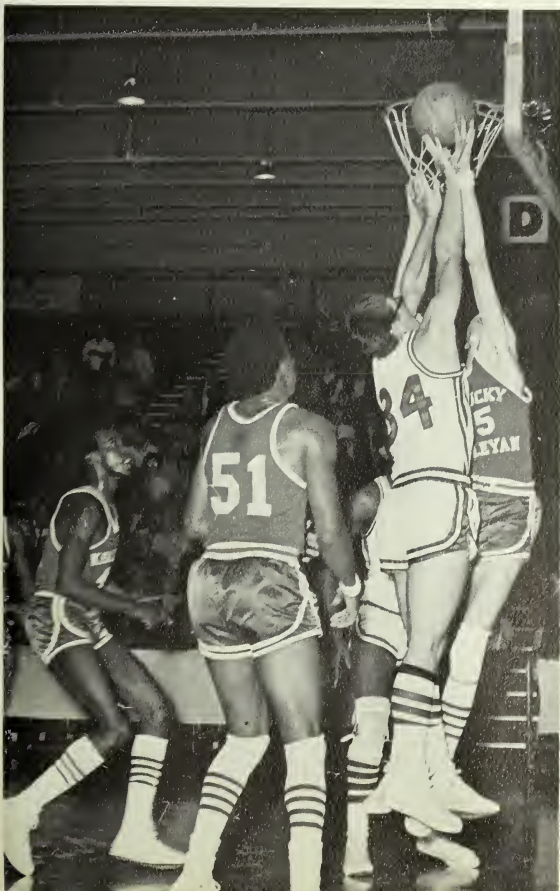

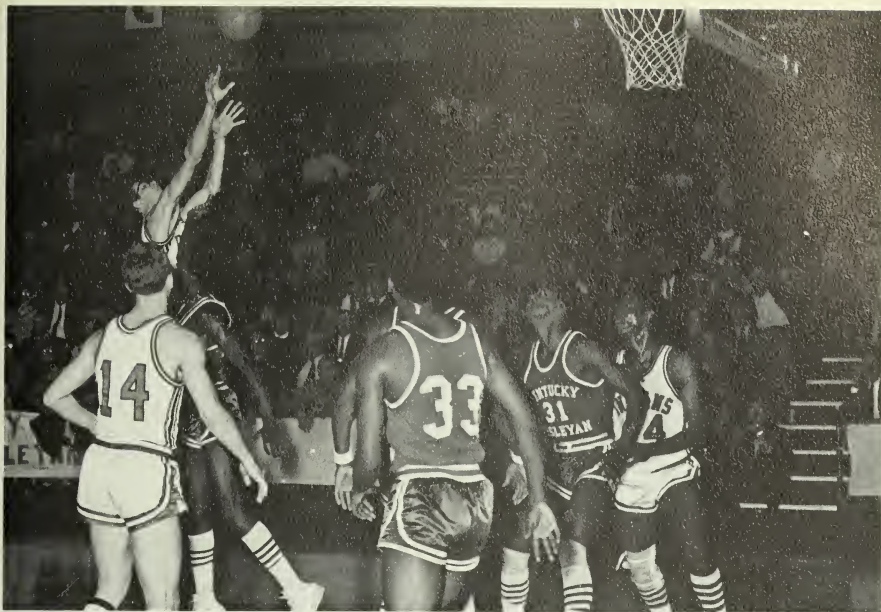

The next night, against Union, Belcher was unable to play at all but a stronger McKay scored 15 points while Brown was high with 17.

ASU Nips Union

The Indian's basketball woes continued as they began the new year by dropping a 92-62 decision to Southwest Missouri in Springfield, Mo. Shelly Haywood posted 14 points to lead ASU scorers. Returning home, the Redmen held off a late rally by Union University to record their second win of the year 78-76. Ron Brown had a career high of 28 points while Mike Wise had 20 and John McKay 18. Against the Lamar Tech Cardinals, the Tribe gave one of their finest performances of the season, only to drop an 84-81 decision in Indian Field House. Brown hit 21 points and Wise 20 for the Osage. Trinity University's Tigers followed the Cardinals into Jonesboro and handed the Redman their second straight conference loss 92-71. Wise had 18 and Young 16 to lead the scoring while Belcher pulled down a game-leading 17 rebounds.

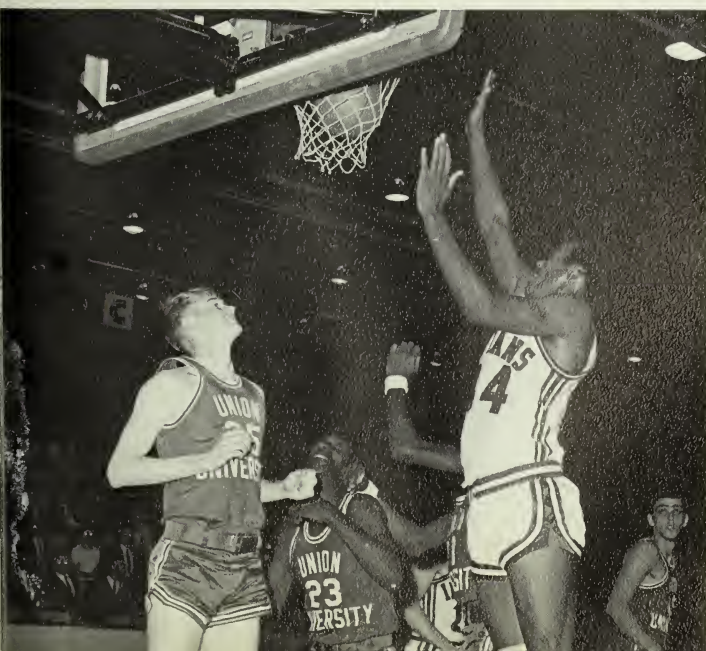

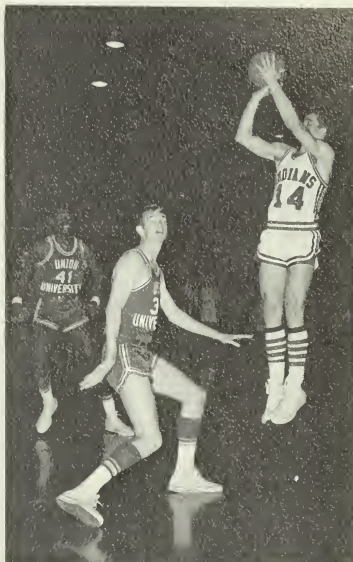

The Indians came back to snap their two-game losing streak and avenged a loss to Southeast Missouri by beating SEMO 111-102 in a game that was not as close as the score indicated. Forward Mike Wise led the home team with 31 points, his season high.

Win At ACC Snaps Another Loss Skein

The Tribe eagers closed out January and began February with three straight losses before winning their first conference game to break the streak.

In rematches against Southwest Missouri State, Tennessee-Martin and Kentucky Wesleyan, the Indians came out on the short end against all three teams for the second time during the season. Southwest visited the ASU court and went home with a 90-67 win. Ron Brown led the Indians with 16 points. Tennessee-Martin downed State 87-69, but the Indians' John Belcher had 17 points and 18 rebounds. Ranked sixth at the time, Wesleyan blasted ASU for a 105-86 win. John McKay was high scorer for the Tribe with 24. A road trip to Texas produced A-State's first conference win, a 77-75 thriller against Abilene Christian College. Brown's two free throws with four seconds left gave ASU the win. Brown was also high scorer with 20 markers. On the same trip, however, the Tribe dropped an 83-80 tilt to the University of Texas at Arlington. Brown again led Indian scorers with 19 points.

Indians Take SLC Triumphs At ASU, Drop Final Games At Lamar, Trinity

The Indians closed out their home season with conference victories over Abilene and Texas-Arlington, but lost a chance to finish better than third in the SLC by dropping the final contests of the season at Trinity and Lamar Tech.

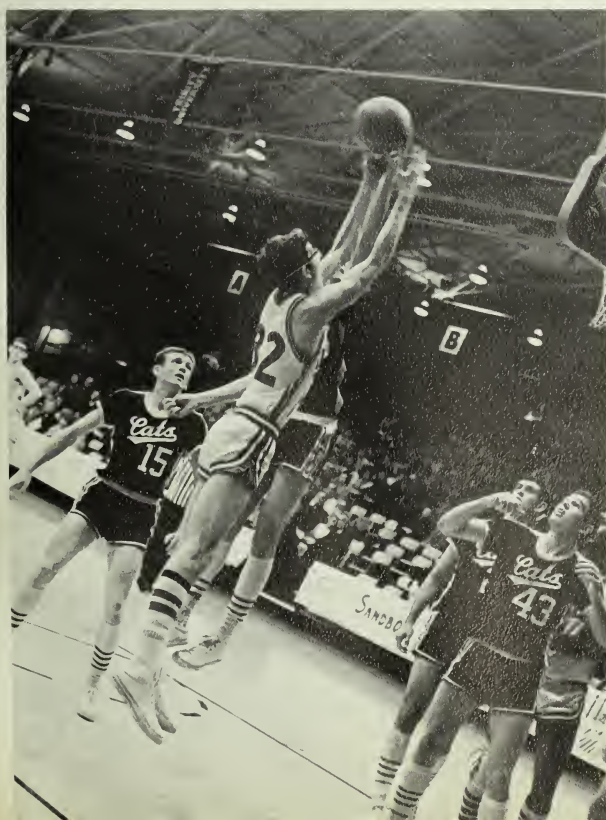

Against Abilene Christian, the Tribe broke open a tight game in the second half and rolled to a 94-73 triumph. Mike Wise poured in 20 points to lead A-State, followed by Dave Velander and Ron Brown with 18 each and John Belcher with 17. Wise hit a 25-foot jump shot as the buzzer went off to give the Indians an 83-81 win over Texas-Arlington. John McKay was high scorer for State with 19 points, while Tom Waleszonka added 18. A rally in the final minutes was not enough, and ASU dropped a 90-87 game to Trinity. Velander and Belcher paced the Tribe with 28 and 22 markers respectively. Tech began pulling away from A-State just before the end of the first half, and did not stop until it had a 94-78 victory in the Indians' last game of the regular season. Belcher had 20 points to spark ASU, followed by Waleszonka and Wise with 14 each.

LXA Takes Title No. 4

Lambda Chi Alpha won its fourth straight Greek intramural football championship this year. No other team has ever even repeated as Greek champion. Team members, shown after their Fingerbowl victory over Tau Kappa Epsilon, were, kneeling, Vince Bilinsky, Joel Campbell, Bobby Singleton, Lamar Kyle, Jim Wagner, Freddie Hendrix, Jim Mueller, Craig Shumaker, Steve Brown and Tim Goldman; standing, Bill Loyd, R. D. Velander, Sonny Hildebrand, John Ferriell, Jim Fitzpatrick, Dennis Cate, Mel Beck and Alan Brown, in back, Robert Wortsmith and Pat Harper. At right, LXA linebacker Steve Brown grabs the flag of the Tekes' John Geis.

Speedball was one of the main women's outdoor sports. Below, coeds try the three-legged race.

Caraway Hall won the women's intramural softball championship. Team members were, kneeling, Norma Bashant, Sandy Reynolds and Judy Clem; standing, Judy Allen, Jan Lawrence, Dian McCormick, Janice Hopkins and Mary Rorex.

Basketball Action Rugged

Basketball drew more participation than any of the other intramural sports, for so many students, both male and female, played the sport before coming to ASU. There was also a strong faculty league in the sport.

The Rats won the independent men's basketball crown. Team members were, kneeling, Leroy Robins, Darrell Clifton and Ronald Cheatham; standing, Tommy Ducker, Conley Williams, Tommy Cone, Jerry Mitchell and Anthony Brown, coach.

Indoor Activities Varied

The indoor activities in ASU's intramural program are varied, ranging from tournament bridge to swimming. Coeds showed their skills at pool, left, and bowling, far right. Across the bottom, the Reng Center sponsored several pool and snooker tournaments, women bowlers evaluate the score sheets and swimmers dive into the pool for the start of race.

Baseball Officially Shifts To Major Level Competition

Baseball took on a new look at ASU this spring as the Indians made the jump to university division competition complete. Southland Conference competition was scheduled as a round-robin for the first time, and the Tribe had hopes of winning a third straight SLC title and gaining a playoff berth against the Southwest Conference champions. With several top returnees leading the way, the Tribe started hot at the plate, but faulty fielding resulted in some early season losses. With veterans Wayne Pitcock, Rusty Bourg, Jim Mueller, Steve Morrison, Jim Wagner, Stan Williams, Bobby Sherrill, John Ferriell and Robert Wort-smith leading the way, Coaches J. A. "Ike" Tomlinson and Rich Johnson are planning big things.

Wayne Pitcock, who gained All-American, All-SLC and All-Midwest regional honors last spring, showed why he is one of the nation's top hitters with his showing at the University of Alabama tournament.

All-SLC outfielder Jim Mueller, top, passed up pro contracts to finish his eligibility this spring. Rusty Bourg, only a junior, won his first start and went on to become ASU's all-time win leader. First baseman Steve Morrison proved he could get on base in the lead-off spot and also saw duty in the outfield in early games.

Tracksters Aim For SLC Crown

The ASU track team finished second in last year's Southland Conference championship meet, and with returnees like Thomas Hill, Billy Caputo, Billy Bell, Robert Andrews, Kelly Parrish, Rudy Rogers, Cleve Warrick and Craig Shumaker, plus a host of transfers and freshmen, the Indians hope to take their first crown.

Thomas Hill gave all indications that he would surpass his performances of last year in the season's first meet as he long jumped a record 23-9½. Charlie Clarke, right, has the potential to become one of the school's best weight men ever.

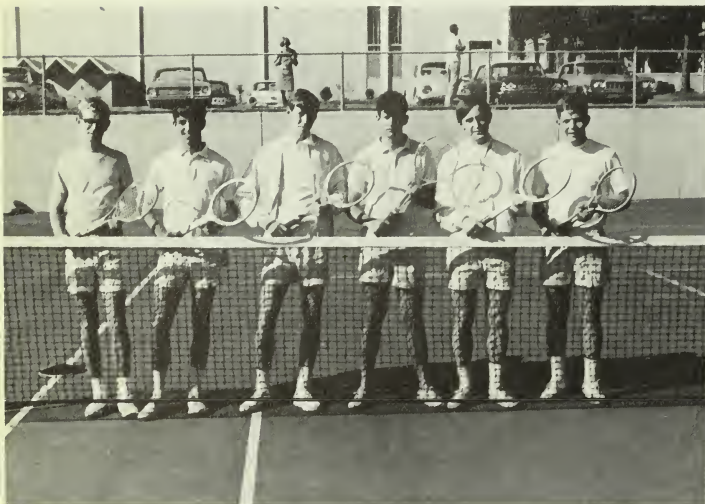

Thomas Hill, top, finished almost a full second ahead of his nearest rival to break his own high hurdles record with a 14.1 clocking in the first meet of the season. In the middle, freshman Vernon Guest, far left, tied for the win in the 100 yard dash in the first meet with a 9.7 timing while Billy Caputo, second from right, finished third. At left, freshman David McGough breaks the tape to win the 440 yard dash.

University

Dr. Reng Directs School's Growth

Arkansas State University has grown from a relatively small college with 1,200 students to a bustling university of nearly 7,000 students under the direction of Dr. Carl R. Reng, President of ASU. Dr. Reng has served in his post for the past 18 years, and most of the campus' physical facilities were added during this time. The respected educator and administrator obtained his B.A. from Buena Vista, his masters degree from Drake and his Ed. D. from the University of Missouri. He has also received an LL. D. degree from his alma mater. Dr. Reng's closest associate is Dr. Eugene Smith, executive assistant. His secretary is Mrs. Midge N. Holmes.

ASU Board Determines Policy

Austin E. Temple of Crossett, president of Ashley, Drew and Northern Railway Company, is the newest member of Arkansas State University's Board of Trustees. He succeeds William H. Wyatt of Blytheville and is the third board member appointed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, the others being Joe Brooks and W. P. Gulley Jr. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Temple came to Arkansas in 1956.

The board of trustees consists of five members, one of which is appointed each year by the governor and confirmed by the state senate. Each member serves a five year term.

Gulley was elected chairman of the board, Brooks was elected vice chairman and Owen, secretary.

Veteran Administrators Carry Out ASU Policy

L. Cameron

L. Cameron is a name that has become synonymous with money at A-State, since it has been his task since 1951 to manage all the University's finances.

He was formerly a student at ASU, and after graduation in 1936, he continued his schooling at the University of Arkansas, culminating in a masters degree. Before occupying his present position as Vice-President in charge of business and purchasing, he taught school and served as county supervisor and examiner in Lawrence County. He is married and has three children.

N. D. Hazelbaker

Perhaps his aggressiveness has made Dr. N. D. Hazelbaker one of the most well-known persons on campus, but his position as Vice-President in charge of instruction, demands this aggressive outlook.

He attained a B.S. degree at Northeastern Oklahoma State College, a M.Ed. degree at the University of Missouri, and a Ed.D. degree at the University of Arkansas before coming to ASU in 1953.

Peggy Stroud

Besides having the welfare of the University's women students under her direction, Peggy Stroud, as dean of women and associate dean of students, has the added burden of assisting the dean of students in his responsibilities.

Before coming to ASU in 1954, she received her B.A. from Millsaps College and gained a M.Ed. from the University of Mississippi.

Robert Moore

Handling all problems from fraternities to traffic tickets comes under the jurisdiction of Robert Moore, dean of students. But his job includes more than that. His office oversees almost every aspect of the student's college life from the time he arrives on campus until he graduates.

He came to the University in 1949 and held positions as dean of men and extension director before becoming dean of students. He received his B.A. at Mississippi College and his M.A. at the University of Mississippi.

Don C. Denny

As dean of men, Don C. Denny has the full-time job of looking after the University's over 3000 male population. He first came to Arkansas State in 1958 as a resident hall director, and since then has risen to director of men's housing and on to his present position.

College of Business

The College of Business, under the supervision of Dr. B. C. McGough, dean of the college, is ever striving to educate the business leaders and office workers of the future so that their skills may be channeled into the upbuilding of the economy. Each student receives a standard background in accounting, business administration, business education, and secretarial science.

Division heads are Shirl D. Strauser, Accounting; Dr. Robert Ferralasco, Business Education and Secretarial Science; and Dr. Roland Mullins, General Business and Economics.

College of Education

Teachers hold the key to the future of the youth of the nation, and the College of Education is geared to produce the finest in the field, offering not only an undergraduate program, but also a masters program in many fields. The College, under the leadership of Dr. Harry F. Hodge, offers programs in not only regular education, but also in such varied subjects as Library Science, Psychology, Special Education, Rehabilitation Counseling and Counseling.

The five heads of the divisions are Dr. M. Vance Sales, Educational Administration and Secondary Education; Dr. Robert F. Abbott, Counselor Education and Psychology; Dr. Ray L. Simpson, Elementary Education and Special Education; Dr. Jess R. White, Physical Education and Recreation; and James Hansard, Library Science.

College of Fine Arts

By employing the use of art exhibits, drama productions in Wilson Auditorium, the Chamber Theater, musical concerts (both instrumental and vocal) and debate tournaments, the College of Fine Arts strives to increase the cultural aspects of the student and the community. Under the direction of Dr. Duane Haskell, dean of the College, each student is given the opportunity to develop an appreciation for the arts and is also provided with the opportunity to develop his own creative abilities.

Division chairmen are Dan Howard, Art; Dr. Dennis H. Rhodes, Speech and Drama, and Donald R. Minx, Music.

College of Liberal Arts

The College of Liberal Arts is mapped out to meet the increasing need of today's youth to know the answers to questions that don't have just one answer. The course is designed to instill questions in the student's mind, then help him grope for the answer — an answer that has evaded many.

Dr. O. P. James, dean of the College, is assisted by chairman in three divisions: Dr. John A. Galloway, History; Dr. C. Clyde Jones, Political Science, Geography and Sociology; and Dr. Earl J. Wilcox, English, Philosophy and Languages.

Arthur Krida Jr., instructor in English, confers with a student.

Students receive instruction on a personal level (above), as well as in the classroom.

College of Science

With the addition of the new Laboratory Science Center, which was opened for the first time this year, and the procuring of more, highly specialized teachers, the College of Science has made great strides toward enriching the presentation of its program.

The new laboratory facilities, combined with the purchase of modern scientific equipment, enables the student to better encompass the wide scope of the scientific world.

The College is divided into three divisions under the supervision of Dr. James Stevenson. Dr. Dewey Sifford is the acting chairman of the Division of Physical Sciences, Dr. John K. Beadles is chairman of the Division of Biological Sciences, and Jerry Linnstaedter is chairman of the Division of Math and Physics.

Division of Radio-TV, Journalism and Printing

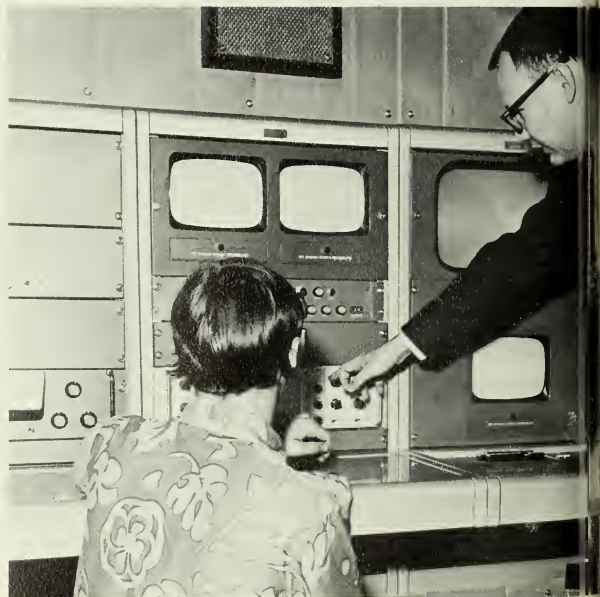

RJP Faculty — (seated) Robert Kern, L. W. "Tex" Plunkett, division chairman, Charles Rasberry, Joel Gambill and Jon Braswell; (standing) Bobby Ruff, Tom Manning, Homer Hallett, Darrel Cunningham, Gene Boucher and Roy Barnhill.

The Division of Radio-TV, Journalism and Printing, one of the school's most respected departments and an independent division, continued to grow this year as it increased to almost 200 students in one of its major fields.

Under the direction of L. W. "Tex" Plunkett, its graduates fill major positions in the communications industry throughout the state.

Students gain work experience through The Herald, ASU's newspaper, which is published by journalism and printing classes, and the university owned radio station, KASU.

ROTC: Preparation For the Future

It was another year of the same at the Division of Military Science, only perhaps more so. There were the same uninitiated freshmen meekly pursuing the same harrowing, sometimes frightening, initiation into a world of ultra order and orders. There were the same old wisened sophomores philosophically going through the motions of a year before, and finding a new NCO Academy there to confuse them. There were the same junior and senior advanced cadets, looking at things from the giving instead of the receiving end. And then there was the faculty, aiming at making men of boys and wondering what went wrong. But above it all there was the promise of a new world to come, one of uniforms and regulations, tradition and future.

It's Not All Drill

When most people think of Military Science, they think only of the drills, cleaning weapons, shoe shining and the other not so glamorous aspects of ROTC. They forget that with it all come the added grace of the Princess Platoon, the formality of the military ball and the various receptions given for cadet officers.

Division of Nursing

An undergraduate nursing program became a reality at ASU this year behind the efforts of Leon Eldredge, division chairman.

Upon completion of the two-year program, including courses in the natural and social sciences as well as the University's basic courses, a student is eligible to apply for a state nursing license.

Graduate School

The Graduate School added new courses in Rehabilitation Counseling this year to its ever-expanding series of Masters programs. Under the direction of Dr. W. W. Nedrow, 52 persons of the 180 students entered in the School received degrees.

Dr. W. W. Nedrow is one of ASU's veteran educators and best known figures.

Museum Fills Many Roles

ASU's Museum is used by many for research and reference in several fields. Under the direction of Dr. Eugene Wittlake and Mrs. Wittlake, the museum provides a ready source of reference in such fields as natural science, pioneer history, Arkansas Indian culture and historical glassware and china.

Dr. and Mrs. Wittlake are assisted in their efforts by eight student preparators.

A grid of 24 black and white student portraits arranged in 3 rows and 8 columns. The students are dressed in formal attire, including suits, ties, and dresses. The portraits are arranged in three rows of eight. The first row shows students with various hairstyles, including short, wavy, and slicked-back styles. The second row features students with a mix of short and shoulder-length hair. The third row includes students with short, wavy hair and one student wearing glasses. The overall style is characteristic of mid-20th-century school yearbooks.

Potpourri

You can always tell when it's noon by the mad rush for the cafeteria lines, but students often wonder why they rushed.

This year's Christmas decorations again drew protest from those who oppose overly commercialized Christmas, but then some people will criticize anything. At the left is a much too familiar sight.

Second Semester Students

Operas Draw Packed House

ASU's Opera Workshop scored a success this year with the presentation of two operas.

"There and Back" was a 20th century comedy fantasy which promoted the idea that man is a futile animal whose individual actions accomplished little.

The second opera was "Gianni Schicchi" by Giacomo Puccini. It is a 19th century comedy which concentrates on the greed of the heirs of a rich old man who has died.

Snow Lovers Have Only One Holiday

ASU had its mildest winter in years, as evidenced by the fact that only one snow covered the campus, and it fell on a weekend. Preceded by freezing rain, the snow turned the campus into a thing of beauty with all the splendor of a Camelot forest. The smoothly covered grounds were soon covered with footprints, though, as students donned their play garb and started snowball fights all around the campus. Although the one winter holiday was enjoyed, everyone was glad to see things back to normal by the time for Monday classes.

... An Era Ends

In the summer of 1965 I received a letter from Victor Dickson, then the sports editor of the Indian, asking me if I would like to work on the yearbook when I enrolled in Arkansas State University that fall. I had never worked on a yearbook, but on my next trip to Jonesboro, I went to see Victor, and I told him I would do it. Little did I know what my meager efforts while writing sports copy would bring.

After two more years of staff work, I found myself as editor of this monster, both malignant and benign in character. And now, at 2:30 p.m., March 31, 1969, I find myself trying to finish this literary monologue before the plane, which will carry the final deadline to Walsworth Publishing Company, leaves at 4:28.

Usually an editor looks forward to his chance at putting out a yearbook, and I was no exception, but when my time finally came, I found that many "chickens had come home to roost," and it was my job to clean up the mess they left. I hope I have.

In some previous years the yearbook has caused slight controversy after the book's contents became known before the annual was released. This year, though, the book should be a surprise to everyone, including some of the staff members. It seems that every time we had a major deadline, staff members were also in the middle of nine weeks or semester tests, and in one case, in "mid mid-semester" tests. Luckily, I was able to either juggle my schedule around my tests in order to get some work done, but in some cases, the books (academic) had to suffer. It's hard, though, to expect a fantastic quantity of work from a staff which is mostly composed of volunteers.

And what a collection of personalities the staff included. Ron Becker, who will inherit this job next year, and his fiancée, Marge Mueller, did most of the layouts. Ron has things well planned for next year, and Marge, with her experience, will probably be able to again give him a lift on the book. Copy editor Eddie Reddick and sports editor Jack Montgomery, while often absent when work was to be done due to other work commitments, did do a good job of giving me "rabbit ears" with their constant harassment. Jeane Hamilton was a gem as class editor, and she did much of the work on the index. Doug Szenher and Jim Lassiter did a professional job in writing sports copy, and Lassiter especially brightened the yearbook room with his cheery (?) disposition.

As for my photographers, they did good work, when they didn't miss a shot and force the editor to grab a camera to cover for them. Keith Ashcraft, was on the staff for his third year, and he will inherit the top spot. Dennis Holt had the usual problems a freshman encounters.

They did manage to do something no other photography staff has done here in a long time — they always had their photos ready two to three days prior to a deadline.

Head photographer Marion Meredith was more than a head photographer, for he was, and has been for the past four years, the man I went to when I had a problem. This yearbook has been a large part of our lives for the past four years, ever since we moved into the ballroom section of Danner Hall as freshmen. Our experiences have been as rollicking as anyone can imagine, such as our fraternity's general assembly in Dallas, Tex., this past summer, and just as sorrowful, like the night over three years ago that I had to call him and tell him of the untimely death of Mark Crow. Marion and I lived across the hall from Mark, Roy Ockert and Dan Stracner, and their effects on our lives will always be obvious.

Enough thanks can't go to yearbook advisor Tom Manning, my good friend who got me started in this business almost nine years ago. He approved the index, then did much of the work compiling it. He also helped me juggle the budget so that we could increase our color. I haven't seen the color pages yet, but I hope they're as beautiful as the transparencies.

With this editor, and head photographer, an era ends. The past dozen yearbooks, since 1958, have been edited by members of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. I hope this book isn't anticlimatic, for it would be a disappointment to my nine predecessors. Jim Stephens was the first, and he served as both editor and photographer for two years. His first book had 264 pages, 24 of which were advertising. Charlie Crow was head photographer of the next four books under editors Charles Long, Bill Camp, Bob Harrelson and Richard McCann. Charlie's brother, Wendell, edited the next two books, and Phil Pickle was his head photog. Roy Ockert also served two terms, and Marion took over as head man during his freshman year after Mark's tragic death. Dan Stracner, my immediate predecessor, was as different from Roy O. as night and day, and I hope I picked up both of their best points.

It's finally time for me to close. I still have six days of spring break left to rest, look at the books I've neglected the past nine weeks, go home to see my parents and make a trip to see the one who put up with me during periods of anger and disappointment, and joy, while putting this book together.

It's been real.
